SCORE INJURED IN EXPLOSION IN KANSAS CITY

DENTON FIRE BRINGS DEATH TO ONE; TWO HELD

CLAIMED WRECKING CREW EMPLOYED FOR BLASTING BUILDINGS

ALLEGED EFFORT TO FORCE EMPLOYMENT UNION LABOR IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19.—(AP)—A score or more of North Side residents are nursing minor injuries received when an explosion last night wrecked a three-story brick storehouse and damaged buildings over a large area.

While doors were blown from hinges in nearby homes and windows broken for a radius of more than two blocks, no one was seriously injured. Eight persons received treatment by ambulance surgeons and many exhibited cuts from glass.

Although the cause of the blast was unknown, police were informed by terrified residents of the district that two men were seen leaving the building shortly before the explosion. It was the latest of a series of explosions which damaged homes and office buildings and followed within 48 hours a confession from a former convict that he had been hired to lead a "wrecking crew" to force employment of union labor.

The building, in the 500 block of Holmes street, was used as a storehouse by Mike Messino, proprietor of an adjoining hotel of that name. Messino and five members of his family were in the living room of their home when the blast occurred. All were hurled to the floor and suffered slight injuries. He professed ignorance of any possible motive that may have led to a bombing.

Explosions in various parts of the city over a period of several months have damaged buildings. While some of the blasts were attributed to gas leaks, discovery of burned fuses and other evidence of bombs having been used led to an extended investigation.

In a roundup of suspects, William A. Faust, 42, former business agent of a local teamsters' union, was arrested and in a signed statement told police he had been paid $250 a week by a local labor official to head a "wrecking crew." Faust said he quarreled with the official over pay that was withheld.

One of the homes recently bombed was owned by a contractor who told authorities he had employed non-union labor in the construction of apartments and had been warned to hire union men.

Penitentiary Agent Was Again Saved By Wife In Battle With Four Convicts

DEL RIO, March 19.—(AP)—Mrs. R. S. Cloud, wife of a state penitentiary agent, probably will arrive at the state prison at Huntsville today or tomorrow with her husband and 21 prisoners who might have gained their liberty, leaving Cloud dead, had she not intervened for the second time in two months to save his life. The party resumed its journey from here last night after reporting the latest exploit of Mrs. Cloud, which took place near Marfa two days before.

Two months ago Mrs. Cloud routed three prisoners who had wounded her husband and chained him to a tree while being transported from San Diego, Texas, to Huntsville. The trio escaped into Mexico but later were brought back to jail here.

The attack at Marfa occurred while the prisoners were being taken from El Paso and intermediate points to the state prison. A truck carrying 14 prisoners in a cage was in the lead, followed by Mrs. Cloud in a small car with three prisoners, Cloud and the remaining four prisoners being in a third machine. Fearing attack, Cloud had unloaded his pistol and left the cartridges in his wife's car.

As a stretch of Big Ben country was being traversed, the men in the car with Cloud seized his pistol and snapped it at him. When they found that it was empty they struck him over the head with it. Cloud drew a knife and slashed at his assailants, but they wrested that from him too.

Mrs. Cloud saw her husband's danger, stopped the machine and leaped out, spraining her ankle and knee. Limping, she reached her husband's car and opened fire with a pistol, wounding one of the prisoners. One fled and the others were subdued. Cloud was not seriously wounded nor was the prisoner shot by his wife.

The prisoner who escaped has not been recaptured.

Hamer Ready to Appear Before Upton Probers

AUSTIN, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Commenting on reports that the Upton county jury will ask him to produce evidence to substantiate his recent signed allegation that a "murder ring" has grown up after the State Bankers association offered $5,000 for each dead bank robber, Ranger Captain Hamer Monday said: "I'm ready, anxious and 'rarin' to go."

"If I can't prove what I've charged," he added, "I'll sign a 'lie bill' as long as my leg."

The grand jury expects to interview the veteran captain about March 26, said dispatches.

TOTAL NUMBER OF LIVES LOST IN DAM BREAK GIVEN AS 449

SEARCH FOR REMAINING DEAD TO BE CONFINED TO RECLAIMABLE LAND

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—(AP)—The total loss of life in the St. Francis dam disaster was computed today at 449 persons—272 known dead and 177 missing and believed to have perished.

While the search for the dead continued with an army of more than one hundred motor tractors being used to tear through the big piles of debris, authorities in the stricken zone decided to confine their efforts only to reclaimable land. Debris on the unreclaimable area occupied by the old bed of the Santa Clara river will be burned.

The huge fires will serve as funeral pyres for an unknown number of the dead. Authorities said it would be impossible to put a large enough force at work to recover the bodies on the unreclaimable land within a reasonable length of time, and that with the available organization the process would require so much time that the purpose of seeking them would be defeated.

The state's inquiry into the case of the dam break was programmed to open today. Many funerals, both public and private, also were arranged for victims.

Widow of Suicide Receives Messages

CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Messages of condolence from President Coolidge, Vice President Dawes, Secretary Hoover and many other prominent men were received today by Mrs. John F. Smulski, whose husband killed himself with a pistol at their apartment yesterday.

Smulski was president of the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank, a former state and city office holder and a national figure in Polish-American affairs. Despondency over illness was given as the reason for his suicide.

Kansas City Man Swallows Poison

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19.—(AP)—William C. Mauzey, Jr., Kansas City, Kas., an electrician, committed suicide by swallowing poison in a downtown drug store here yesterday. His parents believed he was desponent over trouble with his wife, from whom he was separated.

SNOW AT BALLINGER.

BALLINGER, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Several flurries of large snowflakes fell in Ballinger today, but the snow melted as soon as it struck earth.

ANOTHER SUNDAY AIRPLANE CRASH TOOK THREE LIVES

WILMINGTON, Cal., March 19.—(AP)—The collapse of a wing of an airplane sent three men to a spectacular death here yesterday and resulted in the injury of two children.

The three—a pilot and two passengers—were 2300 feet above Wilmington, when the right wing of the plane was seen to give way. The force of the wind thrust the broken wing against the propeller and the machine went into a nose dive.

Crashing into the front yard of a home where several children were playing, it struck two of them and injured them slightly. Jacinto Zamudio, 14, was knocked unconscious and a piece of the plane tore an apron from a little girl.

The pilot, Jack Martin, 24, and the passengers, Wm. H. Hulbert and Leonard T. English, were dead when removed from the wreckage. They all lived in the Los Angeles area.

Blizzard Is Again Sweeping Turkey

CONSTANTINQPLE, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Barely over a recent blizzard, Turkey again is being swept by heavy snow falls and intense cold, stopping Black Sea shipping and paralyzing the activities of the population.

Influenza and tubercolosis have made inroads among the population which is unused to such rigors and there are thousands of stricken people in the slums of Stamboul.

Various Anatolian districts report from 25 to 60 per cent of livestock perished from the cold.

Michael Arlen, prominent author and playwright, will soon wed the Countess Atalanta Mercati, says a report from Paris. The countess is now in Genea with her mother.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STEEL COMPANY AND WIFE BLAST VICTIMS

MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSION WRECKS AUTOMOBILE WHILE ON STREET

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 19.—(AP)—Anson W. Allen, assistant general superintendent of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, United States Steel subsidiary, and his wife were injured last night when a mysterious explosion literally demolished their automobile in which they were en route to church.

Horace Cox, a passing motorist, who went to the Allens' aid, declared he smelled a distinct odor of powder or some other explosive in the wreckage of the car. The gasoline tank and other portions of the machine were found intact although the top of the sedan was blown completely away and the sides and back were burst out.

The explosion occurred on Bush boulevard in a fashionable residential district. The automobile was tossed out of its path and onto the street car tracks in a parkway in the center. The explosion appeared to have come from the back of the front seat apparently was all that saved the lives of its occupants. Karl Landgrebe, superintendent of the company's Ensley operations, said he knew of no one who might seek to injure Mr. Allen, and other officials of the company made similar statements.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were in a hospital suffering from shock and physical injuries.

Nora Bayes, Musical Comedy Star, Dies

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Nora Bayes, musical comedy actress, died today in a Brooklyn hospital.

She was taken to the hospital last Monday for an abdominal operation. She was thought to be on the road to recovery when she suffered a relapse last night from which she did not rally.

She was born in Milwaukee in 1880. She was a star on the stage for more than twenty years, making her first appearance in vaudeville in New York.

ONE MAN DEAD ANOTHER DYING AFTER BURGLARY

BORROWED GASOLINE CAN FOUND IN FIRE DAMAGED RESIDENCE

DENTON, March 19.—(AP)—One man is dead and another, charged with burglary and arson, is near death in a hospital here as a result of a fire which damaged the residence of P. H. Francis last night.

Jim Kelman, 19, died today of burns, and Leslie Briggs, 34, was charged with burglary and arson, an is burned so badly he is not expected to live.

Kelman was found in the blazing house by firemen after neighbors had turned in an alarm. His clothing was afire.

Briggs, who has only one leg, was found in an automobile about two blocks from the fire. His head, face, hands and leg were badly burned.

After the firemen had found a 5-gallon gasoline can in the house they learned that Briggs and Kelman were supposed to have purchased five gallons of gasoline at a filling station. The can was identified as the property of a filling station.

J. F. Franks, owner of the house, later was arrested and charged by complaint as an accomplice to arson.

Briggs is under indictment on an accessory to murder charge in the fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff R. B. Parsons here in 1925. W. A. Martin is serving a 99-year term for the slaying.

SECRETARY WILBUR TAKES NEW TACK IN APPEAL FOR NAVY

PITTSBURGH, March 19.—(AP)—Taking a different tack in his appeal for a potential navy, Secretary Wilbur today stressed the need of good ships as homes of men under training for national defense.

Comparing the navy to the home in an address before the Century Club at luncheon here today, the Secretary said that it must be kept clean and shipshape and in good order for service.

He pointed out the need of target practice, maneuvers and naval problems and said they were investments in brain power.

"The real problem of the navy," he declared, "is the men—their physical, moral and spiritual training for the tasks that lie before them."

"I do not desire to belittle the importance of speed and gunfire of torpedo and aircraft and submarine, for those are important, and in time of war would be vital," he continued. "But in the everyday peace-time efforts of the navy our expenditures for all these things focus upon the individual man. They are the instruments by which he is trained. In order to be trained in their use we must constantly use them. Such expenditures involved in wear and tear, for fuel and for upkeep, are primarily for the training of the men. It is the duty such as housekeeping in the home.

"The navy of the United States ought to be one of the safest places in the world for the finest type of our young manhood and the extent to which this ideal has been realized is not yet fully apprehended by our people."

Supreme Court Hearing Counsel's Arugument In Attack on Leasing Law

AUSTIN, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Many sided arguments in other important similar litigation behind it, the supreme court Monday began hearing counsel's contentions in the concerted attack on the mineral relinquishment act, affecting the value property rights of hundreds of state land owners and lease holders.

The court last week finished hearing submission of cases involving the asserted right of county commissioners to lease county school lands for mineral purposes and validity of all statutes governing the lease and sale of Texas University lands.

Seven suits for mandamus against Land Commissioner J. T. Robison were up for its consideration Monday. D. J. McDaniel, J. E. Bowen, P L. Buvens, O. W. Greene and Joe S Sheldon brought them in an attempt to obtain mineral prospecting permits on the claim that the 1919 act, which relinquishes to purchasers of state lands fifteen-sixteenths of the mineral rights found therein.

Attorney General Claude Pollard joined the realtors in attacking the statute, under the direction of which millions of dollars worth of oil and gas rights have gone to land owners and drilling corporations. The gist of the assault on the measure is that it gives away state property (minerals) for no valuable consideration, as prior to its passage the state preserved all mineral rights on such sales.

Commissioner Robison, defending the act of which he was sponsor, declared that 'chaos" and "near civil war" would be almost inevitable if the court strikes down the law.

Two Students Die From Auto Crashes

AUSTIN, March 19.—(AP)—Two students are dead here from injuries received in Sunday automobile accidents.

J. E. "Gene" Ryan, Jr., member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at Texas university, was fatally injured when the steering gear on his automobile broke near Cuero.

George Reid Reynolds, San Antonio, student at St. Edwards university, was mortally hurt when a machine which overturned near San Antonio.

Ryan's companion, Fred B. Wagnear, Brownsville, was uninjured as were the two persons who rode in the car with Reylonds.

Three Men Killed At Grade Crossing

SUOTH BEND, March 19.—(AP)—Benjamin and Samuel Drake, father and son, of Bremen, Ind., and a third man whose name has not been learned, were killed today when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a New York Central freight train.

Allen Weaver, a fourth occupant of the automobile, escaped with minor injuries by swinging to a hand rail on the locomotive which he caught as he was hurled from the demolished machine.

The third man killed was identified later as Auben Barrett of South Bend.

Driver For Fire Chief Is Killed

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19. (AP)—Frank Balzerino, 26, driver for the headquarters fire chief, was killed today when the chief's car, returning from a fire, struck a taxicab at Tenth and Main streets, downtown, and overturned. John Hand, district fire chief, who was riding in the car, suffered cuts and bruises.

SENATOR FERRIS RESTS WELL

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—Senator Ferris of Michigan, who is seriously ill at his hotel apartment here, rested well last night, attendants said. The senator, who is 75 years old, is suffering from bronchial pneumonia.

Judge Convinced Many People Are Crime Infested

CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Thirty-three years on the bench have convinced Judge Marcus Kavanaugh of two things:

1—That there are 350,000 persons in the United States who live partly or wholly by crime, who committed 12,000 murders last year, and who obtained illegally in the same period enough money to pay for the building of the Panama canal;

2—That there are "simple methods of relief" available, if only the public would insist upon their adoption.

Judge Kavanaugh, who sits on the superior court bench, has based his opinions not only upon his long experience but upon three years of intensive study of the crime situation.

Many agencies of law are blamed by the judge for the American conditions he pictures governors, legislators, prosecuting attorneys, police for indifference. A coun- Chief responsibility, however, he attaches to the publicofr indifference. A country, he declares, earns the crime it suffers.

EASTERN STATES VISITED BY HEAVY SNOW FALL SUNDAY

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—With spring officially but two days away, parts of the East today were digging from under one of the heaviest snowfalls of the winter.

Along the Atlantic seaboard the storm rode : non a gale which at Boston registered a velocity of 48 miles an hour.

Inland the snow laid a blanket of 3 to 17 inches deep over the countryside, breaking down trees and bushes but proving little hindrance to transportation.

The heaviest fall was reported from Ausable Forks, N. Y., a few miles south of Plattsburgh, where 17 inches was recorded. In Pennsylvania the snow ranged in depth from 3 to 14 inches. In Boston there was a heavy rain, while New York City experienced a slight sleet storm, which later turned to rain.

State Forester Illick of Pennsylvania expressed fear of serious damage to the fruit chop as a result of the breaking of tree limbs due to the heavy snow.

The heavy snowfall was general throughout Northern Vermont, New Hampshire and Northwestern Maine.

Fireman Scalded To Death Monday

JESUP, Ga., March 19.—(AP)—Fireman Aycuss was scalded to death and Frank M. Parr, engineer, scalded and hurt when the Kansas City special of the Southern railway, northbound, was derailed here early today. The engine and baggage car left the rails when the train hit an open switch. None of the passengers was injured. The track was clear in a few hours and the train proceed to to Atlanta.

Railroad officials said the switch had been turned and locked so as to send the train onto a spur track.

KILLED IN ACT OSMASH.

GEORGETOWN, March 19.—(AP)—Will Lunsford, 40, building contractor foreman, was killed last night when his automobile crashed into a guard rail on a bridge near Jonah.

VIGOROUS ATTACK ON REPUBLICANS IS PRESENT REACTION

BOTH REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS CALL FOR PURGING OF PARTY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Speculation as to a hitherto unnamed higher-up who might have been involved in the Teapot Dome scandal vied for uppermost attention in the latest oil-political disclosures today with sharp attacks from both republican and democratic sources on Harry F. Sinclair's $160,000 contribution to the republican party in 1923.

The Senate investigating committee will not meet until Wednesday. Meanwhile, it is expected to make far-reaching inquiry into reports it has received intimating that a high official or leader in American life, yet to be mentioned in the five years of investigation, was connected with the oil cases in some questionable manner.

This new tack by the committee probably will determine whether it will call F. L. Siddons of Chicago, a witness who failed to respond when called Saturday in the subcommittee inquiry there into the distribution of $160,000 of the Sinclair bond contributions which were handled by the late Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National committee.

Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, chairman of the Senate Teapot Dome committee, who, with Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, conducted the Chicago investigation, indicated in that city that Siddons was expected to tell a rather startling story. Last night in Baltimore, where Senator Nye stopped off en route to Washington to make a speech, the committee chairman said:

"If reports given to our committee are true, a name is involved that would be criminal to mention until further investigation of the basis of the charges is made."

Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, in a blanket attack on the entire Teapot Dome affair last night, asserted:

"For spectacular rottenness, I doubt whether we have the equal of Teapot Dome in American history, or ever will have."

He said the Republican party "must purge itself from the oil smudge," and, by forceful action, show that it "indignantly repudiates the men who participated in the rape of the government oil lands."

Hull Demands Action.

Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee, a former chairman of the Democratic national committee, issued another statement, demanding the resignation of all Republicans in high positions who have "contributed to the suppression of the awful facts" regarding the Sinclair Continental Trading

THREE PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED IN PISTOL BATTLE

MIAMI, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—An early morning pistol duel between two alleged bandits and Miami Beach policemen sent the two bandits and one policeman to the hospital today, all probably fatally wounded.

Patrolman David C. Bearden, 24, of Miami Beach, received bullet wounds above the heart and in the stomach. Mike Nesbit, 28, of Chicago was dying from his wounds, hospital attendants said, and Tommy Nolan, alias Beck, of Miami, his confederate, has two bullet wounds in the head.

The pistol battle took place when police intercepted Nesbit and Nolan driving a stolen sedan from Fort Lauderdale where police said they had burglarized an automobile agency Sunday night, rifling the cash drawer and stealing a new automobile.

ADDITION TO POST OFFICE.

The Corsicana postoffice will be almost doubled in size when the $90,000 addition is completed. The entire building will be remodeled to a great extent, that is the interior will, and a number of offices will be added to take care of all government agents stationed in this vicinity. The Corsicana federal building will compare most favorably with any in the state in cities of Corsicana's population class and the improvements are in keeping with the growth of the city.

To Mr. Pierce Mayer, Corsicana postmaster, the major part of the credit is due for the securing of the appropriation which makes the much needed addition possible. Mr. Mayer has been working untiringly for several years to secure the appropriation and has made several trips to Washington in the interest of the matter. These appropriations for federal buildings don't 'just happen.' It is not just a question of asking for them. The proper party affiliation will not guarantee such an appropriation. One has to prove to the thorough satisfaction of the officials that the need exists and after this is done a constant reminder of the need must be kept before the officials. This is what Mr. Mayer did. He did not for a moment let the officials forget that the Corsicana postoffice needed more space and his persistence has been rewarded.

Mr. Mayer is a progressive and valued citizen of Corsicana. He will always be found in the front ranks of any civic move whereby the city and county will receive benefit. Under his administration the Corsicana postoffice has functioned smoothly and all business is dispatched in a most thorough and satisfactory manner. The citizens of Corsicana are indeed indebted to Mr. Mayer for his efforts in securing the appropriation for the addition to the Corsicana postoffice.

NEEDLESS SACRIFICE.

Nearly 13,000 acres of magnificently forested land on the western edge of the Yosemite National Park are marked for the lumberman's ax and for "other commercial interests." Within this area of about twenty square miles are two of the park's three sequoia tracts, the Tuolumne and Merced groves. They contain some of the finest specimens of the rapidly disappearing giants of the forests that were there when Caesar conquered Gaul and the American mound-builders were erecting their monuments in the Great Basin. There is also a tract of huge sugar pines that were lifting their green spires before the birth of this nation.

Already the Yosemite has lost nearly one-third of its original area. Now it is proposed to take away three more tracts. Nearly half of their area is public-owned park land which should not be turned over to the loggers. The rest is private claims that should be bought up by the government and preserved. Stephen T. Mather, director of national parks, believes these 13,000 acres have far more value for commercial than for purely park purposes. But their commercial worth is not great in comparison with their recreational and esthetic value, which cannot be stated in monetary terms. Congress should prevent their needless sacrifice by turning thumbs down on contemplated legislation to legalize these raids.

UNCOVERING A NASTY MESS.

Testimony before the senate committee that the account books of the Republican national committee were destroyed just before the Republican national convention of 1924, does not serve to diminish the growing public disgust with Republican national campaign methods which are being bared piecemeal by senate inquisitors.

Despite Will Hayes' testimony as to his lack of knowledge as to what was going on, it has been made clear from other sources, including statements before the committee by James A. Patten, the Chicago wheat king, that Liberty bonds which were furnished to the Republican campaign managers by Harry Sinclair, were being exchanged for checks in various smaller amounts from Patten and others, in a way that made it appear the check-givers, and not Sinclair, were contributing to wipe out the big Republican deficit.

The Sinclair bonds were accepted and used for this purpose after the Republican campaign managers knew of the Tea Pot Dome transactions between Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, of the Harding cabinet, and after these transactions were attacked and were being investigated.

The fact that the account books were destroyed, as now disclosed, will make it hard for the Republican party management to explain that it was not done deliberately in an effort to cover up the nasty mess.

The further disclosure that $50,000 of the Sinclair bonds were sent by Hays to secretary of the Treasury Mellon, (who, however, refused to accept them), makes it all the harder to understand how Hays could have been ignorant of the trick methods that Republican campaign managers were employing in their clumsy effort to conceal the fact it was Sinclair's money that was being used to wipe out a large part of the Republican deficit.

Corsicana and Navarro county will get its share of National publicity when the Corsicana Daily Sun special to the National Democratic convention pulls into the union station at Houston. It is expected that at least 300 residents of this community will be passengers on the crack, all pullman train. Everybody has a desire to attend a national convention and the opportunity of a lifetime is offered by the Houston gathering. Make your reservations early.

FREAKISH STORM CAUSED ONE DEATH AND MUCH DAMAGE

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—(AP)—Property loss estimated above $50,000, one life lost and an accommodation train wrecked, was the known toll today of a freakish windstorm that swept the oil fields of Northeast Texas and Northeast Louisiana yesterday and later hit the west and east boundaries of Mississippi in the vicinity of Vicksburg and Meridian respectively.

The loss from the blow centered largely in the oil areas, where an incomplete count showed about thirty derricks smashed. The Caddo, Tullos and other oil fields of Louisiana suffered heavily.

The one fatality reported was E. Chambers, aged resident of Kellyville, Texas, who died of injuries sustained when the roof of his barn, hurled through the air by the twister, landed on him.

Passengers on an accomodation train of the Texarkana-Shreveport branch of the Texas and Pacific railway probably were saved injury by the fact that the passenger coaches were coupled on to the rear of the train, which was wrecked when three freight cars jumped the track on an undermined roadbed, near Dixie, La.

Shreveport, Vivian and Winnfield, La., escaped the storm with damage consisting chiefly of the crashing of plate glass windows and minor unroofings, while Meridian and Vicksburg reported unroofing of dwelling, uprooting of trees, and damage to automobiles and crops on outlaying farms by a forty-mile an hour blow and large hail stones.

APPROPRIATION FOR NEW WARSHIPS WAS PASSED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—The $274,000,000 new warship construction program was approved today by the house and sent to the senate. The vote was 287 to 57.

In passing the Butler bill, the house voted for the construction of 15 cruisers of 10,000 tons displacement each and one aircraft carrier of 13,800 tons.

The measure carrier a provision requesting the president to urge the "necessity" of another international conference for the limitation of naval armaments and gives him authority to suspend the proposed construction either in whole or in part in the event of a limitation agreement.

In addition, the bill would provide that eight of the new ships must be built in navy yards.

COURTHOUSE NEWS.

District Court.

An instructed verdict for the defendants in the case of Mrs. S. A. Newton vs. Rhoads Bros., damages, sought in connection with the arresting of the plaintiff for alleged theft several months ago, was returned in the Thirteenth judicial district court Saturday morning. The case was started Friday morning. Notice of appeal of the case to the court of civil appeals was given by the plaintiffs. It is alleged that the plaintiff was arrested and later released when it was found out that she had been erroneously suspected of the theft of a ring from the defendants. An employee of the defendants thought the plaintiff had taken a ring but the ring had been sold and she was immediately released.

The Navarro county grand jury which has been in recess for several days is scheduled to resume deliberations Monday. The investigators will conclude their work next week and will be finally adjourned.

Next week is the final week of the January term of the Thirteenth judicial district court. Judge Hawkins Scarborough will deal with non-jury cases, motions, etc., finishing up the work of the term. The following week will be a recess week and the April term of court will start Monday, April 2, when a grand jury will be impaneled.

A jury commission composed of A. A. Allison, John C. Calhoun, both of Corsicana, and Mid Westbrook of Kerens have been ordered to meet Monday to select grand and petit jury lists for the April term of the district court. The commission will select ten lists of petit juries and one grand jury list.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, PRECINCT NO. 1, PLACE NO. 1.

To the people of Precinct No. 1, Place No. 1 of the Justice Precinct of Navarro county:

With pleasure I take this method of announcing to the Democratic voters of said Precinct, that I will be a candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace.

When I first asked your support for the office, I promised you that I would give earnest consideration to every case that came before the court, both civil and criminal, that I have tried to do to the very best of my ability. On that platform I am asking the voters, in the primary election, to render a verdict as to how I have fulfilled that promise.

When I was elected to this office, I was ignorant as to the necessary qualifications of a Justice of the Peace. I soon realized that if I tendered the service demanded of me, that there was a great amount of work and study ahead of me. So I have put in many hours of hard work along that line, that I might be able to render such service with credit to myself and dignity to the office.

I have not yet finished the work I have begun, on account of the office, so I am asking to be re-elected that I will have that opportunity.

Thanking one and all for their past favors, and assuring you each and all that I will especially appreciate your further consideration, I beg to be ever yours,

S. B. JORDAN.

WOMAN ALLEGED RESTORED TO LIFE AFTER BEING DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—(AP)—The Examiner today reported the case of a woman being "brought back to life" by a surgical operation after her heart, pulse and respiratory organs had stopped functioning for five minutes.

The patient, Mrs. I. S. Weil, wife of a Chicago merchant, described briefly her impressions of "being dead." She said:

"It was a feeling like rising through the air. I seemed to see marble steps. Then I fell upon my head. Next I heard a nurse say, 'Are you back, Mrs. Weil?'"

Mrs. Weil had been critically ill for months from a tumor at the base of the brain. She had entered the University of California hospital here in a critical condition.

Dr. Howard Naffziger, brain specialist, was at her side when she apparently became lifeless. He rushed her to the operating room and removed the tumor. She is expected to recover.

CORN PLANTING TIME
We believe that we have the best corn planter made. It the Moline Gearless Walking Planter and is also equipped to plant cotton. We also have a very low price on this planter. See price below.
The Moline Walking Planter is a gearless planter, absolutely doing away with gears of any and all kinds. It is a double Pittman drive which does away with side draft. The Pittmans are round steel rods and are placed inside the frame where they are free from the danger of being bent and throwing the machine out of alignment. The corn seed plates are changed from the bottom side of the can and can be changed in the field without having to pour the seed out of the can. The can is extra large and can be locked either in or out of gear. By all means look over the Moline Gearless Walking planter before buying.

ELEVEN UNITED WITH METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY

REV. F. P. CULVER ASSISTING IN MEETING AT DAWSON THIS WEEK

At the morning church hour of the First Methodist church Sunday, eleven joined the church, some by letter and others by baptism. This makes a total of thirty-three who have entered the church since the close of the Hogg revival. The choir sang an anthem and the pastor, Rev. F. P. Culver, preached from the subject, "Growth." At the evening hour Rev. Mr. Culver preached from the subject, "Friends of Christ," and the choir sang an anthem. Both church services for the day were wall attended.

On Monday Rev. Mr. Culver will leave for Dawson where he will help in a revival meeting at that place for the next week or ten days. The following announcements were made: Regular prayer service Wednesday night; the postponement of the School School census until Sunday, March 25; self-denial week, which will start the first Sunday in April and close Easter Sunday at which time a special offering will be made to the church of all monies saved during the week of self-denial; on the first Sunday in April the pastor will again preach to the children of the Sunday school and church after which communion will be observed by both children and adults; the opening of the Standard training school, April 8th and decision day for this same date, at which time many from the Sunday school will enter the church.

The attendance at Sunday school was off compared with last Sunday, but shows an increase over last year. The figures are as follows: 522 Sunday; last Sunday 542; one year ago 315. In the Weiler Bible class the attendance was 42 compared with 52 last Sunday.

In the adult department of the Sunday school, Sam J. Jackson presided, and Captain Thomas of the Salvation Army led in the devotional and made the address of the morning. Joe Patterson, educational director, made several announcements before this department of the recent organization of the adult department and of the work that these various committees of this department would be called on to do.

In the Weiler Bible class, W. A. Tarver taught the class. Boyce Martin presided and F. P. McElwrath, general Sunday school superintendent, made a brief talk on building a large men's Sunday school class.

He pointed out that in the event that the scholastics were not secured, the $15 State apportionment would be lost.

SNIPERS SUCCEED IN HITTING PLANE OF MARINE FLYER

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Mar. 19.—(AP)—An American marine plane in Nicaragua today bears two bullet holes as indication of the presence of Sandino rebel bands in Northeast Nueva Segovia.

Lieut. Frank H. LamsonScribner, while flying over the mountain region formerly held by Augustino Sandino, rebel chieftain, was fired on yesterday by snipers hidden in the rough country and two bullets penetrated his ship. One bullet struck a bomb which the plane was carrying but no explosion took place and the American flier was able to retailiate quickly by dropping a bomb over the jungle land.

Lieut. Vernono M. Guymon, accompanying Lieut. Lamson-Scribner, in another ship, also was fired upon but his plane was not hit. He too, dropped a bomb upon the snipers but it was not known whether any casualties were inflicted upon the Sandino band.

Play Presented At Mildred Friday Night Was Success

The Cumberland Presbyterian young people presented a three-act comedy drama at the Mildred high school Friday evening, March 16. Although the weather was very inclement, even a flurry of snow having fallen in the afternoon, a large audience was present.

Nothing but words of praise have been heard concerning its rendition. Each actor carried his part in a professional manner. It would take too much space to give each special mention, as they deserve, and every one of the fifteen characters had parts suited to their type, and a number of the older residents of that community stated that it was the best play that had been presented in those parts.

We wish to take this means of thanking the following persons for their contribution toward the success of our play: Mrs. Grace Binford and Mr. Ray Moore for music furnished; Mr. Bank Sutherland for stage scenery; Mrs. F. A Widemer and Mrs. Cromwell for costumes; the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., for use of one of their up-to-date hand telephones and especially Mr. Chandler, superintendent of Mildred high school, for the use of his building.

Following is the cast of characters: Sam, the janitor, A. B. McBroom; Susanne, the ingenue, Miss Gladys Baker; Rachel Hazelwood, fat old maid sister, Miss Thelma Ramsey; Almira Hazelwood, slim old maid sister, Mrs. Edith Curtis; Rev. Harding, the new preacher, Bill Chaffee; Miss Crompton, the high school teacher, Miss Avis Ramsey; Katherine Carter, the village poetess, Mrs. Maude McBroom; Clara Nelson, mother of postman's wife, Miss Oneta Gaillard; Ruth, the postman's wife, Miss Myrtle Edwards; Postman, H. L. Hardgrave; Mrs. Edgeworth, president library board, Miss Marie Borg; Pearl Reynolds, juvenile lead, Miss Mary Ruth Baker; Burr Edgeworth, Pearl's lover, Taylor Smith; Avis Hazelwood, the lady of the library, Miss Marie Ramsey; Judge Whitcomb, the big man of Rushmore, W. L. McBroom.

This play was directed by Miss Vaudie E. Read and she states that they cleared over $40.

CORPORATION COURT.

Traffic violations made up the bulk of the cases appearing on the corporation court docket Monday morning for the action of Judge H. S. Melear. Four were charged with running over stop signs, and three with exceeding the speed limit.

Dr. J. D. Hathorn entered the Hole-in-One club on the Corsicana Country Club course Sunday when he made No. 8, 190-yard hole, in one stroke with a wooden driver The green is a blind green, and on the recently added 9 holes.

Dr. Hathorn was playing with Ruben Neece, Davis Neece and Randolph Jackson.

This is perhaps the most unusual shot registered on the course in its history.

Tommy Taylor Is Bought By Bears

HOUSTON, Mar. 19 — (AP) — Tommy Taylor, third basman with the Houston Buffs last year, has been sent to the San Antonio Bears in an outright transfer by purchase from the Houston club, President Ankenman announced Monday.

Taylor, who was drafted from the Buffs by the Washington Senators last year, has been returned to Houston in week-end releases from the Senator camp.

DISTRICT SESSION PARENTS-TEACHERS CLOSED ON FRIDAY

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR BOTH DISTRICTS WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Officers for the Third and Twelfth districts were elected without opposition at the final session of the annual conference of the Third District of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations with no unexpected opposition cropping out Friday afternoon. The membership loving cup was awarded to the Sulphur Spring junior high school association for the greatest gain in membership determined on a percentage basis.

At the opening of the final meeting, Mrs. J. C. Miller of Paris presented Mrs. A. F. Wood, retiring president, with a handsome week-end case as a token of appreciation for her efforts while in office. Mrs. Miller also presented Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state president, with a beautiful buttoneire. Mrs. Woods also received a beautiful bouquet.

The subject of county councils was discussed by Mrs. A. S. Latham of Longview, and was followed by a brief round-table.

The report of the judging committee on posters was presented by Mrs. E. D. Peadro of Tyler, and the poster on humane education prepared by the Lamar Parent-Teacher association of Palestine was awarded the first prize, a handsome picture.

The committee also judged an exhibit of local posters on safety, fire prevention and health, and the prizes were awarded to posters prepared by children from the William B. Travis school. Cash prizes were offered for these posters by Mrs. J. M. Kerr.

Longview high school association was awarded the prize in the scrapbook division with a perfect book, and was awarded a handsome copy of the Elbert Hubbard scrapbook.

The remainder of the reports by counties were received at the final session including those from the Corsicana associations, who were highly praised from the floor for their entertainment of the convention.

Loving Cup Awarded.

The silver loving cup offered to the association showing the greatest increase in membership on a percentage basis, derived from the dues sent to the state office, was awarded to the Sulphur Springs junior high school association, which showed an increase of 652 per cent; Longview Ward one was second with an increase of 630 percent.

Mrs. Charles D. Walker of Jacksonville extended an invitation to the Twelfth District to hold the first meeting of the new association in 1929 in Jacksonville.

Mrs. E. P. McKenna, new president of the Third District, extended an invitation to the Third District to hold the 1929 session in Tyler, and her invitation was backed up by representatives of other Tyler associations present and by telegrams from Tyler organizations.

No Official Action.

These invitations were acknowledged but official action was delayed until a meeting of the executive committee at a later date. The scheduled meetings were not held Friday evening, because many of the officers wished to catch trains and busses to their homes.

Mrs. Walter Beaton presented the final report of the Credentials committee which showed that a total of 118 delegates had registered for the conference. This is a new high mark for the conference.

The list of officers for the two districts which were formed from the old Third district with the addition of a few counties from other districts was formally announced.

The officers elected for the Third District were: president, Mrs. E. P. McKenna, Tyler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clem Rice, Tyler; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Deport; historian, Mrs. R. H. Dunagan, Paris; first vice-president, Mrs. W. S. Southerland, Sulphur Springs; second vice-president, Mrs. A. S. Latham, Longview; third vice-president, Mrs. Hugh Pierpont, Marshall; fourth vice-president, Mrs. W. C. McDowell, Paris; fifth vice-president, Mrs. Con Smith, Mount Vernon; sixth vice-president, Mrs. H. C. Merritt, Mineola; seventh vice-president, Mrs. J. T. Robinson, Texarkana.

New Officers.

Officers elected for the Twelfth District were: president, Mrs. R. W. Robbins, Athens; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. M. Forrester, Athens; recording secretary, Mrs. Lamar Blunt, San Augustine; historian, Mrs. C. V. Dilley, Palestine; first vice-president, Mrs. B. E. Reed, Carthage; second vice-president, Mrs. A. A. Allison, Corsicana; third vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Holman, Jacksonville; fourth vice president, Mrs. Tom Frasier, Rusk; fifth vice-president, Miss Hazel Floyd, Nacogdoches; sixth vice-president, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Teague; seventh vice-president, to be supplied.

The report of the resolution committee was presented in sections, Mrs. A. A. Allison, chairman of the committee, reading the resolutions adopted by the state committee, and Mrs. Wade Harrison of Texarkana presenting the resolution of the Third District.

Resolutions Adopted.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted by the conference.

The Third district resolutions follow:

Resolved that we of the Third District of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers of one accord do heartily and sincerely thank the citizens of Corsicana for the gracious hospitality shown us, for the board luncheon at the Robert E. Lee school, the City Federation tea at the home of Mrs. J. Elmer Butler, for the two lovely luncheons at the educational building, the Chamber of Commerce for the printed programs, the Corsicana Daily Sun for their generosity in publicity and in furnishing a reporter for each session; the Corsicana artists who have favored the guests with their delightful talent and the Methodist church for the use of their educational building.

Further resolved that we thank one and all who have contributed in any way to make this the splendid meeting that it has been.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. A. A. Allison, chairman, Corsicana.
Mrs. Earl Sterling, Sulphur Springs.
Mrs. Wade Harrison, Texarkana.

The resolutions passed by the state congress and adopted by the Third district follow:

Resolutions Adopted at 1927 Convention in Houston.

1. The National Legislative program including peace. (1) Outlawry of war. (2) Reduction or armaments by international agreement. (3). The World court. (4). Some lasting organization of nations.

2. Proper observance and enforcement of all laws. Prohibition. Uncompromising enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment with no change in the Volstead Act that would re-admit wine or beer or otherwise weaken enforcement.

3. Perfecting of our marriage and divorce laws. A constitutional amendment that shall give congress the right to pass a uniform marriage and divorce law for the nation.

4. Protection of children. Active education in behalf of the ratification of the National child labor amendment, including where necessary the betterment of existing state child labor laws. Maintenance of the children's bureau with adequate appropriation.

5. Protection against opium and similar drugs. Maintaining our present narcotic laws and cooperating in all reasonable international movements against the traffic in drugs.

6. Public schools. The education bill calling for a separate department of education with a secretary in the cabinet. This bill calls for a small appropriation but does not call for any federal aid to the states.

(1). Careful and earnest study be given to the proposed constitutional amendment, to be voted on in November, 1928, providing (a). For a state board of education which shall take the place of the present ex-officio state board and to which may be assigned the duties of the present board and such others as the legislature may from time to time prescribe and (b) For a longer tenure of office for county and school district trustees, thus insuring a more experienced membership and a continuous and more consistent policy of administration.

(2). To promote the efficiency of the public schools, to promote as nearly as possible the universal training of the children of the state for worthy citizenship, and to decrease the menace of illiteracy there should be a more strict and uniform enforcement of the compulsory school attendance law; and all local attendance officers should be encouraged to have all children within the compulsory school age attend school as prescribed by law.

(3). In order to harmonize the compulsory attendance law with the child labor law, the compulsory school age should be so increased as to include all children from the age of eight to fifteen years.

(4). The scholastic age should be so extended as to include children six years of age, making the scholastic age six to seventeen, inclusive.

(5). The active support of all units of the state parent-teacher organizations should be given to local officials in their efforts to give to the state the best and most efficient service possible for every dollar appropriated for the support of the public schools.

(6). An efficient and economical administration of the public schools of the state requires and demands that provision be made for a larger unit of support and administration than the present district system. An important step in this direction would be the employment of county superintendents by the county boards of trustees, thus placing county superintendents on a professional basis, just as are city school superintendents. Members of the legislature and all local school officials should be encouraged to give to the solution of this important problem careful and prompt consideration.

Resolved that the state organization endorse and support the children's code now being formulated by the legislative committee.

Be it resolved that the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association believes there is urgent need of organized instruction in modern health and physical education in the public schools of the state and therefore pledges itself to support the physical education bill and to include it in its legislative program.

Further we believe that the benefits to the mothers and babies of Texas under the provision of the Maternity and Infancy act, popularly known as the Sheppard Towner act, have been sufficiently important as to call for the continuance of the work in no lessened degree under the guidance of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Health.

In order to carry on the work as it has been during the past five years, there must be no cut in the appropriations for the Bureau of Child Hygiene. Since federal aid to the states may no longer be available after June 30, 1929, to accomplish the work as now carried on and to allow all proper development of the Bureau of Child Hygiene, it will be necessary for the 41st Legislature to assume the entire appropriation of a minimum of $77,901.04. Our one-half of which under the present 50-50 basis is derived from the federal government a condition which has caused the only serious opposition to the measure, and an opposition based upon the assumption of interference by the federal government in the affairs of individual citizens and an infringement upon the Jeffersonian principle of state rights.

Therefore, be it resolved, by the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations that we exert every effort to secure a minimum of $77,901.04, for the administration of the maternity and infancy work in Texas, by securing the pledge of each candidate for the legislature and for governor to vote for an appropriation not less than the amount stated above.

We believe that the enactment of such appropriation means more to the future welfare of the state than can be estimated either by us or by any member of the legislature.

Whereas, the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations has endorsed and supported the program of the extension service in farm and home demonstration work, and

Whereas, There is much need of increased appropriations from the federal government to carry out the purposes of the Smith-Lever law,

Be it resolved, That this convention endorses the Capper-Ketchum House of Representatives, March bill as passed by the United States 1st, 1927, and ask our senators and congressmen to again support this bill.

Mrs. A. A. Allison, chairman, Corsicana.
Mrs. Wade Harrison, Texarkana.
Mrs. Earl Stirling, Sulphur Springs.

The conference adjourned at 4:30 Friday afternoon.

DORIS M'DONALD'S HUSBAND SAYS SHE DID NOT KILL MAN

VALLEYFIELD, Que., March 19.—(AP)—Efforts to save 20-year-old Doris Palmer McDonald from the gallows today had the support of an affidavit by her husband, George C. McDonald, declaring her innocent of the murder of the taxi driver for which the two have been sentenced to hang on Friday.

McDonald's affidavit, made in Bordeaux jail in Montreal and made public by his attorney, J. A. Legault, read:

"This is to certify that my wife, Doris Palmer McDonald, now in jail in Montreal, is innocent of the murder of A. Bouchard. I swear to this by my God in heaven. She had not one thing to do in the murder or helped in any way, and the Denver confession is unture."

The body of Bouchard was found last summer along a road near the international border a short time after he had been hired by the McDonalds and a male companion to drive them over the boundary. The McDonalds were arrested in Denver, but the third member of the trio was never arrested. Mrs. McDonald, in a confession, attributed to her in Denver, said she fired the shots which caused Bouchard's death.

Counsel planned to place McDonald's affidavit before the Dominion government.

The matter of clemency has been before the cabinet for some time.

The scaffold, a portable afair which has been used in jails in the Montreal district or 50 years, has arrived and will be erected in the next few days.

Indifferent Customer Is Given Review

As the golden sun rises in the east the streets of the city are filled by a seething mass of humanity wending their ways to their respective places of work. Some are hurrying along that they may make ready for the day's trade, while others are leisurely walking along, carefree, concerned only in gathering in the virtuous morning air that is so fresh and sweet in the early morning. A lady clerk of a large department store scrutinizingly prepares her clothes and powders her face with the deftness of an artisan.

Humming a song, keeping time with her heels on the hard pavement, she is unconsciously at the door of the store before she realizes where she is. As she steps up and punches a time clock she begins to wonder what the day is going to bring forth, at the same time giving a wry expression to the old clock that is so accurate as to the time of arriving and leaving. Going through the routine morning work, which she has done for so many years, the hum-drum of the day begins to foreshadow itself on her mind. But she throws back her shoulders, braces up, suppressing a frown, and trying to make a smile instead, she enters into her work with more vigor and determination to make the day a better one than any before. Reviewing every point of salesmanship that she has at her command she begins to feel that maybe today there will be a flow of patrons that will recognize her as human and subject to courtesies and love.

As the day lengthens into hours a customer now and then drops in to look and to wish rather than purchase, a few making purchases, helping to offset the passer-by. One woman picks up an article, asks the price, where it was made, how old it is, and then asks the clerk if she knows whether that style will be still in vogue in sixty days. The clerk answering all questions, the woman carelessly throws the garment hap-hazardly across the others, making the recently-arranged articles look like a dying calf in a hail-storm. Being asked if she wants it wrapped up, she says she believes not, for she was just looking around to see what was there.

Before the clerk has been able to dispose of her indifferent customer others come, asking the very same questions and turning everything topsy-turvy, disregarding what the lady behind the counter has to do after they are gone. And so on throughout the day, comes and goes, the stream of seekers, some saying they have no money to spend, others just looking around, while they wish to purchase, but it is not pay day with them nor their husband. But that lady that stands behind the counter folds her hands, takes a deep sigh and wishes they only knew

The Clerk's Friend.

EXPECT INCREASE IN FEED AND FOOD CROPS OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, March 19.—(AP)—If Texas farmers' intentions are carried out this year, there will be a six per cent increase in corn and more barley, white and sweet potatoes, grain, sorghums, peanuts and hay, says a report by H. H. Schutz, federal department of agriculture statistician at Austin, based on a state-wide survey.

A corn acreage of 5,500,000 acres, as compared with 5,189,000 for 1927 is indicated, he declared.

Cotton acreage last year was decreased 11 per cent, or 2,000,000 acres in Texas while in other states it was cut about 15 per cent, the report said, and if the same year in Texas and elsewhere, a reduction is kept in effect htis 13,000,000 bale crop would be expected.

DENVER LANDMARK BURNED AT EARLY HOUR; 18 HURT

DENVER, Colo., March 19.—(AP)—Bert C. Hart, Denver, is believed to have been fatally burned; three persons were reported in a critical condition, and 15 persons were taken to a hospital as the result of a fire early today that partially destroyed the Colorado House, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets on Latimer street. A number of other persons received minor injuries when they jumped from second and third story windows. Among the injured were four firemen, including Fire Chief John Healy.

The critically injured are Bert C. Hart, Denver, seriously burned and believed dying; Roy Bender, Denver, fractured ribs and internal injuries; William Cappert, skull fractured, address unknown.

The fire of unknown origin, broke out in the lower stories of the building at 2 o'clock this morning and spread rapidly to the upper part of the structure. The intense heat prevented firemen for a time getting close to the persons besieged in the upper stories.

Finding it impossible to enter the hallways, persons in the Colorado House ran to windows and frantically appealed to the firemen for aid. About 100 persons were believed to have been in the building at the time the blaze broke out. Many, seeing that the firemen were being delayed in placing ladders against the building, leaped to the street from the second and third story windows. A man giving his name as C. E. Lindesmyer, leaped from the third story of the hotel and plunged through the skylight of Morgan's Quick Lunch. He fell into the kitchen, painfully cut by glass.

The Colorado House, a three-story frame building, was a famous landmark in the early days of Denver when Larimer street was the chief thoroughfare of the young Western city. Of late it had been converted into a rooming house.

Fire Chief Healy estimated the loss at approximately $10,000.

Anti-Wets Will Be Advised to Ignore Committee Pledge

AUSTIN, March 19.—(AP)—The "anti wet" democratic faction will be advised by its leaders to ignore the party state executive committee's resolution calling for enforcement of an "allegiance pledge" in precinct and county conventions, Cone Johnson, who presided at the organization's formative meeting in Dallas, declared here Monday.

"Our people will be advised to go right into precinct and county affairs as they have always and pay no attention to that business," he said. "That's our next step."

Attorney General Claude Pollard has held that the pledge recommended by the executive committee technically is not enforceable. D. W. Wilcox, Georgetown, committee chairman, has issued a statement defending the action—which would bind voters to support democratic nominees "all the way through"—and has insisted on its observance.

Dublin Girls Are State Champions

DUBLIN, March 19.—(AP)—The Dublin high school sextet today held the State girls' A. A. U. basketball championship as a result of their win here Saturday over Addison, 40 to 20.

Breckenridge defeated Cisco to win third place. Seldon won the consolation roun by defeating Handley 42 to 15.

The official standings are; Dublin, first; Addison, second; Breckenridge, third; Cisco, fourth.

REPAIRING STREET.

West Second avenue between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets is blocked off for repairs on the pavement there. The gutter on the south side of the street has been torn up and is being replaced. The street has been blocked off for several days.

CATTLEMEN ARRIVE IN AMARILLO FOR ANNUAL GATHERING

AMARILLO, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Cattlemen from all over the nation were arriving today for the annual convention of the Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, which opens here tomorrow.

Harry Jarboe, president of the Drovers National bank of Kansas City, one of the early arrivals, sounded the keynote of optimism that prevails.

"The cow is now the goose that lays the golden egg," he said. "The long predicted shortage in cattle has developed, and with higher prices prevailing and with ranges in perfect condition, the outlook was never brighter for the most prosperous year in the history of the industry."

The convention will open officially with an address scheduled by Governofr Dan Moody.

LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED COTTON MEET AT MEMPHIS

BATON ROUGE, La., Mar. 19.—(AP)—Responses from agricultural authorities in practically all cotton-growing states indicate that a large gathering will attend the meeting called by Harry D. Wilson, Louisiana commissioner of agriculture, for March 30 in Memphis to discuss the spread of the pink boll worm in Texas.

Not only state commissioners of agriculture, but entomologists, agricultural extension workers, and at least one chamber of commerce, that of Alexandria, La., have written Mr. Wilson of their intention to be present or represented.

Approval of the meeting was expressed in a communication from Representative Bunchaanan of Texas, author of the congressional bill which would appropriate $5,000,000 for establishment of a non-cotton zone in Texas to prevent the spread of the weevil. The Buchanan plan has the endorsement of Louisiana authorities as "the only sure and safe remedy" for the situation.

JUDGE STOUT IS SEVERELY INJURED RESULT OF FALL

Judge J. F. Stout, pioneer citizen and business man of Corsicana and mayor of the city in years past, suffered an injury to his hip at an early hour Monday morning and an X-ray picture of the injury showed that the hip bone was cracked and as a result he will be confined to his bed for several weeks.

Judge Stout had arisen and was standing beside his bed, having taken a match from a case nearby preparatory to lighting the gas stove, when he lost his balance and sat down with a severe jolt, sufficient to crack his hip bone. Medical aid was summoned and after the examination he has been resting easy today.

The injury will serve to keep the judge indoors for some time, which will be deeply regretted by his many friends, who enjoy meeting and conversing with him on his usual trips about the city.

Odd Fellows Spend Much on Two Homes

DALLAS, March 19.—(AP)—Odd Fellows of Texas spent $150,000 in the rehabilitation of the lodge's orphans' home at Corsicana and construction of an old folks' home at Ennis during last year, Grand Master C. A. Wheeler of Austin declared here today in his annual address at the convention of the grand lodge of Texas.

T. H. Benton is confined to his home with a severe cold.

SHEEP RAISING IN NAVARRO COUNTY GIVEN NEW IMPETUS

Sheep raising, which is recognized as a desirable factor in any well set-up farming program for a Texas community, is getting a start in Navarro county, it was explained at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning.

One hundred head, about half of which are registered Hampshire stock, have been placed on the West ranch, about three miles from Richland and it is possible that this entire ranch of some 2,000 acres may eventually be devoted to sheep, according to George Andrews, manager of the ranch. M. S. Church of Dallas, trustee of the estate owning the ranch, and Mr. Andrews, whose family has lived on the ranch since 1881, are both deeply interested in the development of sheep raising in the county. There are also several smaller flocks in the county.

The ranch now has some young registered lambs for sale and shortly the management expects to go into Kansas and purchase two more cars of picked, registered stuff.

It is believed that there is considerable acreage in the county which would profitably support flocks of sheep.

RICHLAND FARMERS READY FOR EFFORT IN DAIRYING LINES

Farmers in the Richland community will welcome the proposed county-wide dairy development program, in the opinion of H. W. Stepp of Richland, a visitor at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning.

Mr. Stepp explained that there is a noticeably increasing interest in developing more sources of revenue on the farms and a strong desire to "live at home." He estimates that farmers are bringing into Richland almost ten times as many eggs as they did a year or so ago. More small feed stuff is being raised in the community and an electric grist mill established in Richland some months ago is grinding both food and feed stuffs for the farmer trade.

"There is no doubt but what more of our farmers should give attention to hogs, poultry and dairy cattle and I hope that the landlords will cooperate with their tenants in these phases of diversification," said Mr. Stepp. "I think the dairy program suggested by the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural committee is one of the best proposals ever advanced for the agricultural interests of the county."

Bootleggers Cited To Appear and Pay Taxes to U. S.

HOUSTON, March 19.—(AP)—H. E. Snodgrass, connected with prohibition headquarters at Washington, today cited 200 bootleggers convicted in Federal Court here to appear and pay internal revenue taxes eithr for operating stills or retailing intoxicating liquor even though both businesses are outlawed by the Volstead act.

Under the internal rvenue laws recently made operative by act of Congress, Mr. Snodgrass said, the tax for operating still is $1,000 a year to the State of Texas and $1,000 a year to the Federal Government.

Retailers of liquor are required to pay a tax of $500 to the Federal government in addition to the regular internal revenue tax.

Mr. Snodgrass said if amicable attempts to collect the taxes fail, civil suits for collection will be filed in Federal court.

UNDERNEATH a clear, smooth skin, healthy tissues —full of rich, red blood—thrive.

No worry about pimples now. Instead there is a certain satisfaction that gives confidence.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's way of building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause —through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."—Miss Ruth Gahm, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

Houston

A SUCCESS BY BUYING A "ME TOO" BUTTON

Houston is inviting all Texans to assist in entertaining the convention visitors by asking them to purchase a "Me Too" button at $1.00 each. Many citizens in Corsicana and Navarro County have already purchased their buttons, and if you have not done so, you can get your button at the Daily Sun office.

SATURDAY SESSION OF COMMISSIONERS WAS IMPORTANT ONE

WILL ADVERTISE FOR HIGHWAY BIDS; DISCUSS OIL ASSESSMENTS

At the Saturday afternoon session of the Navarro county commissioners court, it was decided to advertise for drainage structures and surfacing on a number of lateral roads within consolidated road district No. 1 and a schedule for the assessment of oil properties was outlined for the tax asssesor along with other matters. The oil rate will not be definitely set until the court sits as a board of equalization.

The bids for tractors opened last week were rejected and J. M. Tullos, county auditor, was instructed to re-advertise for bids.

Wm. Elliott was allowed $400 as the county's part in the preparation of the map of Corsicana.

A deed from Carrie Kenner Green for right-of-way on the Chatfield road was accepted.

The commissioners decided to advertise for the grade, drainage and surfacing on the Chatfield lateral, the Roane lateral and the middle Bazette road from Corsicana to Chambers Creek bottom; the grading, drainage and surfacing of section 1-B and 1-A of the Navarro road; the drainage and surfacing of the Corsicana-Hogan road and the Drane road.

The elections returns for school district No. 57, Brushy Prairie, were canvassed. There were 27 for and 4 against the raising of the school tax from fifty cents to $1 per $100 valuation.

The returns of the election in levee improvement district No. 11 for the issuance of $82,000 bonds were canvassed, showing 9 voted for and none against the bonds.

The oil schedule last year was given as a basis for the tax assessor's office to begin work by the court. The schedule is as follows:

Production—Powell field—Working interest $300 per barrel; royalty interest, $500 per barrel.

Richland-Currie field—Working interest, $250 per barrel; royalty interest, $410 per barrel.

Pipelines—2-inch per mile, $500; 3-inch per mile, $800; 4-inch per mile, $1,200; 6-inch per mile $2,000; 8-inch per mile, $2,750; 10inch per mile, $4,000; 12-inch per mile, $5,000.

Deep wells, $2,000; shallow wells, $1,000; storage oil, $ .75 per barrel; boilers, oil field, $300.

Tanks above 10,000 barrel capacity, ten cents per barrel; 10,000-barrel $1,250; 5,000barrel, 750; 3,750-barrel, $650; 3,000-barrel, $600; 2,000-barrel, $500; 1,500 barrel, $375; 1,000-barrel, $300; 750-barrel, $225; 500-barrel, $175; 250-barrel, $100.

Gas and oil engines, about $50 per horsepower; pumps, 1-2 the value of engines. Rotary drilling rigs, $5,000; standard drilling rigs, $1.750.

Old shallow wells, including all equipment and tankage under 250-barre, $400 per wel.

Valuations will be based on average daily production of January, February and March.

SOUTHWESTERN DAIRY ASSOCIATION FORMED AT AUSTIN

"The most important event in the development of Texas since the establishment of the State Faiar," is the opinion of thousands of forward-looking Texans concerning the Southwestern Dairy Association, incorporated at Austin last week.

All over the state, in scores of localities, movements are on foot looking to the establishment of dairies, creameries, etc. the stocking of farms with blooded dairy cattle, the importation of pure bred bulls, etc. The press of the state, chambers of commerce, county agents, A. & M. College representatives and thousands of others are active and the activity is growing daily.

Now comes the Southwestern Dairy Association, ready to work with all these agencies and others, to help coordinate the separate efforts and to crystalize the whole movement into one well organized educational campaign.

The Association, it is stated, is a non-profit organization, the objects of which are, according to its charter: "To promote, encourage and develop the dairy industry of the Southwest through the dissemination of knowledge and the holding of exhibitions and shows of dairy cattle, dairy products, dairy and creamery machinery, supplies and equipment, etc.

At the head of the association are prominent business leaders, dairymen, breeders of dairy cattle, manufacturers of dairy equipment, creeamery managers, and representatives of agricultural colleges, regional chambers of commerce, railways, farm journals, etc, etc. membership in the association is open to individuals and representatives of all lines of business connected with the dairy industry or interested in the movement to make Texas and the Southwest a great dairy region.

Plans are already on foot to hold the first annual Southwest Dairy Show at and in connection with the 1928 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6, to 21, and it is now planned to erect a new, Dairy Industries Building in Fair Park of sufficient size to house and display exhibits which are sure to attract from all over America to an exhibition of the importance and magnitude of the proposed exposition.

State Fair Directors are enthusiastic over the movement and eager to co-operate in every way to make it a success from the start.

OVER THOUSAND ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS AT HOME

MEMBERS OF ORDER FROM ALL OVER TEXAS VISIT INSTITUTION HERE SUNDAY

More than 1,000 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs arrived in Corsicana at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on a special train over the Southern Pacific Lines and inspected the I. O. O. F. Widow's and Orphans' Home here. A special program was given at the Home auditorium where Grand Master C. A. Wheeler of Austin was presented with a watch as a token of the appreciation of Texas Odd Fellowship for his efforts during the past year in the many improvements made in the properties here and also the construction of the new Old Folks Home at Ennis which will be ready for occupancy within the immediate future.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs came from Dallas where the eighty-eighth annual Grand Lodge and the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Rebekah Assembly began Monday morning.

Memorial services were held in Dallas Sunday night. The I. O. O. F. band and glee club furnished special music at the memorial services.

The special train left Dallas Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and arrived in Ennis at 11 o'clock. Two hours were spent in the inspection of the new Old Folks Home there. The train was transferred from the Southern Pacific Lines in Corsicana to the Cotton Belt for the last lap of the trip home.

The train was met by a large number of the inmates of the Home. Superintendent and Mrs. George W. Hawkins met and welcomed the visitors and they passed into the main grounds between lines of small boys and girls.

High Officials Here.

Among the high officials in the party were Jake Sasche, Sasche, Texas, member of the board of trustees; C. A. Wheeler, Austin, grand master; E. Q. Vestal, Dallas, grand secretary; S. P. Spaulding, Waxahachie, trustee; C. P. Masters, Leonard, trustee; E. O. Bateman, Greenville, superintendent-elect, who will succeed Mr. Hawkins June 1; W. Gregory Hatcher, state treasurer of Texas, Austin.

At the auditorium special band music by the Home band under the direction of W. O. Barlow, band master, was given.

Superintendent Hawkins welcomed the visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahus.

Harry Emmons of Dallas was master of ceremonies. Mabel Woodin, representing the girls of the home, Wash Campbell representing the boys, and Mr. Edwards representing the old folks, spoke briefly in appreciation for the work done by Grand Master Wheeler in the extensive improvements made during the last year for their comfort. Billy Myers of Fort Worth delivered an eloquent address of the work and virtues of the grand master.

Grand Master Given Watch.

Mr. Wheeler was presented with a handsome watch, knife and chain from the Odd Fellows. The presentation was made by little Miss Helen Knight, one of the inmates of the Home.

Mr. Wheeler stated that Odd Fellowship was in the best condition ever in its history. He declared that all the improvements and additions promised one year ago had been completed with the exception of the remodeling of the Old Folks Home building in Corsicana and that the money was in the bank to do that work. He added that all billh had been paid. He was loud in the praise of the work done by Odd Fellowships during the last year and was especially complimentary in his remarks concerning the work that the Rebekahs had accomplished and had caused to be done.

Special music was also furnished by a sextette of the Home girls.

Mineral Wells is apparently to make a determined bid for the next meeting of the Grand Lodge of Texas. A number of boosters from the West Texas resort were voicing the claims of that city. Beaumont was also mentioned as a contender for the next session.

A number of local I. O. O. F. members included Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Johnson, H. E. Traylor, W. W. Clopton, W. T. Parker, J. A. Watt and others are expected to attend the sessions of the frand lodge beginning today and concluding Wednesday.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson and family of Mildred wish to thank their many friends and relatives for the beautiful lowers, books, and kind deeds that were gixen to our son, and brother, Casey, through his illness and death. We especially wish to thank his many school friends, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Vinson, Humble employees, Dr. Logsdon and the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic.

W. A. HUGG MAKES RESERVATION ON DAILY SUN TRAIN

W. A. Hugg, division superintendent of the Humble Pipeline company, with readquarters in Corsicana, made his reservation Monday on the special train which the Corsicana Daily Sun will sponsor to the national Democratic convention which will be held in Houston in June.

"No special train is complete without a pipeline connection — put me down for a ticket," Mr. Hugg said

Lowry Martin of the Daily Sun was in Houston Monday in conference with Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe, Jones and railroad officials completing details in connection with the special. It is expected that at least 300 Corsicana and Navarro county citizens will be aboard the train when it pulls out for the Bayou City.

Corsicana Man Is In on Laundry Prize

W. O. Wilkerson of Corsicana, Texas, has been declared among the winners in the $50,000 cash prize competition conducted by the landry owners of the United States and Canada, according to information received here today from contest headquarters at Indianapolis.

Selection was made from among the 1,044,372 letters entered in the competition from practically every civilized country on the face of the globe. The subject was, "Why the Laundry Should Do My Washing." With the honor accorded goes an award.

Cavalry Baptists Win Banner

At a county-wide meeting of the churches of the Corsicana Baptist Association held Sunday afternoon at Richland, the Calvary Baptist church of Corsicana won the attendance banner. The meeting was a convention of Sunday schools and B. Y. P. U. workers, and was attended by many of the churches of the county. The Calvary Baptist church had 165 people present, under the leadership of Rev. Barney Thames, pastor, Miss C. Dansby, associate B. Y. P. U. director, and the Sunday school superintendent and general B. Y. P. U. director.

The Purina Quart is the Cheapest

MILK PAIL PROOF

Purina-fed cows have broken more than sixty state, national, and world records.

Yet these records don't tell the whole story after all. They only prove that Purina makes more milk. They don't prove anything about Purina producing a cheaper quart of milk and that's the thing that every dairyman wants.

But here's what does prove Purina produces a cheaper quart—twenty thousand more dairymen are feeding Purina this year than fed it last year! When twenty thousand dairymen—big and little—change to one feed in one year, it says a lot more than any feed salesman can say about the Purina quart being the cheapest!

SENATE COMMITTEE UNCOVERS NEW LINE ON SINCLIAR BONDS

PARTNER AND FRIEND OF HAYS TELLS INTERESTING DETAILS OF FUND

CHICAGO, March 17.—(AP)—Additional testimony that the Cook county Republican committee made no contribution of $25,000 to the Republican national committee in 1924 was given today to the senate Teapot Dome sub-committee at the closing session of its hearings here.

A notation of such a gift is contained in the records of the late Fred W. Upham, national treasurer up to June, 1924, and the senate investigators are seeking to determine whether some of the $60,000 of Sinclair Liberty bonds Upham received from Will H. Hays for political use were sold and the proceeds credited to the Cook county committee.

Alexander Fyffe, who described himself as the "harmony chairman" in Cook county during the 1924 campaign, testified that his committee received a total of $100,750 from the Republican national committee, none of which was returned. He added that his committee made no contribution to the national party organization.

Turning to personal contributions to the Republican national political chest, the senate investigators learned from Philip D. Armour, nephew of the late J. Ogden Armour, and F. Edson White, president of Armour & Company, that on September 8, 1924, they contributed $4,000 each.

They said they had not contributed any funds in 1921, 1922 and 1923, explaining that B. A. Eckhart, assistant treasurer of the Republican national committee, had asked them to make gifts during the Coolidge presidential campaign.

CHICAGO, March 17.—(AP)—Closing three days of hearings here, the senate Teapot Dome sub-committee expected today to turn up evidence equally as interesting as that developed at yesterday's lengthy sessions.

A dozen witnesses remained to be heard. Their testimony promised new leads which would add to the ever-growing list of subpoenas which the senate investigators find it necessary to issue as they follow the trail of the $3,080,000 of liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading company.

Sentor Nye, republican, North Dakota, chairman of the committee, said it might be necessary to recall Will H. Hays, postmaster general in the Harding cabinet and chairman of the republican national committee during the 1920 presidential campaign, because of the testimony last night of James P. Connery, Chicago coal dealer and long time partner and friend of Hays.

Supplementing the testimony given by Hays at Washington last Tuesday, Connery said he had obtained from Harry F. Sinclair the $85,000 which the now managing director of the moving picture industry had returned to the lessee of the Teapot Dome, but that much of this sum was used to take care of Hays' accounts in the stock market. Connery said he had "pushed" Sinclair to pay over the money which Hays had given him to make up the total return on the $160,000 which Sinclair had advanced late in 1923 to help take care of the republican party deficit in advance of the 1924 campaign.

Incidentally, the Chicago coal merchant disclosed that he and Hays had been speculating in the stock of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company on tips given by the wealthy oil operator and that he had loaned Hays part of the $85,000 payment that was made to Sinclair.

Another witness to be recalled is Wilbur W. Marsh, of Waterloo, Iowa, former treasurer of the democratic national committee. He is to be questioned about the testimony of J. G. Hipsley and A. V. Leonard that the late Frew W. Upshaw, treasurer of the republican national committee for a number of years, had told them Marsh had suggested to Upham that neither party make any returns on contributions made in 1923.

Marsh, who appeared before the committee in 1924, has denied that he had made such a suggestion to Upham and has declared that he had nothing to do with the democratic party financing after the 1920 campaign. When called four years ago, the Iowan was questioned only as to 1920 contributions.

BANK CASHIER SHOT BY BANDITS; SECURE LARGE AMOUNT CASH

MADISON, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Elmer Baltz, 41, cashier of the First National Bank, was shot in the abdomen and dangerously wounded and Frank Smith, bank watchman, was shot in the hand today by four robbers who crowded Baltz's car to the curb and escaped with between $23,000 and $25,000.

Baltz and Smith had just received the money from the postoffice and were driving away in a roadster when a parked machine suddenly started up from the curb and turned into their path. There was a head-on collision. Three men got out of the robbers' car, cried "stick 'em up" and began firing with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers.

Smith jumped out of the roadster and took refuge behind a telephone pole. Baltz slumped in his seat. Two of the robbers reached into the car and pulled out the money sack. The robbers got into their car, backed away and speeded up an alley.

DECLARED TALLEY EXPRESSED DESIRE CLOSE SMALL BANKS

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—A charge that Lynn P. Talley, governor of the Dallas Federal Reserve bank, had declared his desire to close small country banks in Texas because "there were too many" was made today before the house rules committee by Representative Williams, Democrat, of Texas.

Advocating his resolution for a congressional committee to investigate the Dallas bank, Williams declared it had "discriminated in rediscounting of loans against the small banks in Texas, especially the institutions with farmers as stockholders."

The Texas representative added that he was interested in banking institutions in Northwest Texas. He said that Talley had voiced his opposition to loans by banks to farmers on the ground that the agriculturists wanted to "borrow on two cows and a couple of horses."

This attitude had been a big obstacle in the harvesting of crops, "especially the 1927 bumper cotton crop," he asserted. He added that "the good crop should have made the year a banner time for discounts to aid the farmers."

Williams declared that "a congressional investigation would be a big inspiration to the 800 odd small banks of Texas."

Another Texas Democrat, Representative Black, also advocated approval of the resolution, saying that the "country banks were now compelled to use city banks for correspondence."

Wortham Veteran Died Thursday

WORTHAM, March 16.—(AP)—Madison Crump, aged 82 years, Civil war veteran and member of Pat Cleburne camp, died at his home in Wortham Thursday morning after a short illness and the funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Oak Grove Baptist church with interment in the Wortham cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, 11 children, 54 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. Crump was born in North Carolina and came to Texas in 1878, 50 years ago, and has serided in this community since that time.

GOVERNOR ESPOUSES PROHIBITION CAUSE; PLEADS FOR UNITY

NOT POLITICALLY RIGHT OR NECESSARY TO INSTRUCT AGAINST ANY MAN

DALLAS, March 16.—(AP)—Instruction of delegates against any candidate for the presidency, either by name or by inference, would be inimical to the interests of the party, Governor Moody declared at the Jackson Day dinner of the democratic women of Dallas county hre last night. The governor espoused the cause of prohibition, attacked the republican party and make a strong plea for democratic unity.

Declaring that he was "not a supporter of Senator Reed, nor of either Governor Smith or Governor Ritchie," Mr. Moody said he did not believe "that it would be politically wise or right or necessary to instruct against."

"I do not believe in doing things indirectly which can be done directly, and if Texas is going to instruct against any, I say that it would be better to do so by name than to do it by inference. I would think it better to call names than to say the man with the brown hat when only one man has such a hat. But I am unalterably opposed to instrucing against anyone. Let us stand for an affirmative principle rather than a negative issue."

Republicans Attacked.

Governor Moody prefaced his attack on the republican administration by declaring that "if circumstances were warranted the democratic party in asking the people of the nation for their confidence, the present circumstances justify such a request."

He drew a comparison between the eight year record of the democrats under Woodrow Wilson and the seven years under Harding and Coolidge. Against the accomplishments of the Wilson administration, both as to legislative reform and material prosperity, he set the "disclosure or graft, corruption and bribery in high places" accompanying the Teapot Dome investigation.

"The development of the facts with reference to this matter has brought the blush of shame to the face of the American people and has caused an honest citizenship to feel outraged that their high offices should be debauched and their property made the plunder of thieves and rascals," the speaker said.

Concerning prohibition, Governor Moody, after explaining his own record on this issue, said:

"I would not have the democratic party do less than declare its fealty to the cause of prohibition. If I were writing the platform of the democratic party at its next convention, I would declare in favor of the Eighteenth amendment and relentless opposi- against any other nation of the

Texas Constitutional Democrats Organized

DALLAS, March 16.—(AP)—An organization, known as the Texas Constitutional Democrats, is to attempt to have precinct conventions on May 5 declare in favor of unequivocal prohibition and its strict enforcement, it was decided here yesterday when the organization, backed by "dry" Texas Democrats, was formed.

An effort will be made, in line with a resolution adopted by the new organization, to impress voters at the precinct conventions with the importance of instructions to delegates to the state and national conventions. The Texas constitutional Democrats will urge that these instructions be to vote only for candidates for president and vice president known by their records to be "openly and positively" in favor of prohibition and prohibition enforcement. They also suggest that delegates be instructed to vote for a prohibition enforcement plank in the party platform.

Still another resolution declared that "the doors of the Democratic precinct conventions should be opened to every Democratic voter who, in good faith, desires to participate, without being compelled to subscribe or bind himself by the pledge attempted to be imposed by the state executive committee."

Officers of the organization, elected yesterday, were: R. Harper Kirby of Austin, president; Mrs. T. A. Kindred of Mexia, Mrs. W. R. Chapman of Anson, Mrs. John Adams of Beeville, Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco, and D. B. Sartin of Wichita Falls vice presidents; Representative George C. Purl of Dallas, secretary.

Selecman Says Will Bolt If He Loses

DALLAS, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Governor Dan Moody's speech here last night was variously received by memmers of the newly organized Texas constitutional democrats, discussion today revealed.

After the governor had concluded his speech, in which he declared that he was in favor of a Texas delegation to the national convention instructed as to principles but not as to candidates, the crowd called loudly for a speech by Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university. Dr. Selecman rose, bowed, and sat down, but the crowd continued calling until he arose again.

"There have been times in my life when I have wondered if the temperate use of a little profanity was not justified," he began. "This is one of them.

"The events of today and tonight have convinced me that we are about to witness the setting off of a mine of sentiment in favor of that portion of the constitution protecting the general welfare.

Selecman Would Bolt Again.

"I disagree with that part of the governor's speech that infers we should vote for a candidate whether we believe in him or not. I believe in using the ballot to express myself, and I shall do so.

"If Al Smith is nominated, I shall bolt the democratic party, so help me God."

The crowd was cheering loudly, and at this point, the Rev. H. H. Wynn, pastor of the Forest Avenue Baptist church, Dallas, shouted:

"My Chairman, I protest this discourtesy."

"Discourtesy to whom," he was asked.

"This discourtesy to our guest, Governor Moody," the Rev. Mr. Wynn replied. "This noise is very discourteous to him."

"There has been no discourtesy intended," Murrel L. Buckner, chairman, replied, when he could be heard above the uproar. "Governor Moody and Dr. Selecman are in perfect accord."

Dr. Selecman then emphasized that the thought of being discourteous to the governor had never entered his mind.

"I apologize sincerely to the governor if I have been," he said. "Governor Moody and I may disagree on some of the political principles under discussion here tonight, but I have the highest regard for him, and honor and respect him."

Moody Not Worried.

After that the Rev. Mr. Wynn had repeated that he thought the enthusiasm with which Dr. Selecman's speech was received as contrasted with the coolness accorded Governor Moody's constituted discourtesy, the governor arose,, smiling.

"I have been in politics since I was in knee pants," he declared. "I am used to being disagreed with. I am sure there was no discourtesy intended and I never thought of it as such.

"I believe I am in accord with the sentiments of the people here tonight, except that they seem to think there is a chance of these men being nominated. I don't.

"I believe the minority, when the convention is held, will accept the view of the majority, and the majority of the democratic party is dry."

The crowd by this time was in a good humor, and many left the audience to shake hands with the governor.

Boll Weevil Is Charged Cutting Down Honey Crop

SAN ANTONIO, March 16.—(AP)—The boll weevil stood charged with another offense here today when the annual meeting of the Texas Honey Producers' association concluded. The weevil, according to the producers, not only spoils the cotton crop, but reduces the honey crop by reducing material for the bees to work upon. The association decided that the crop this year would be about normal and voted to set the price at 9c per pound.

Moody Makes His Position Clear

AUSTIN, March 16.—(AP)—Questions long bereft of decisions came back answered Friday with Governor Moody from the "dry" women's democratic dinner Thursday night in Dallas.

Mr. Moody, holding out for an uninstructed "dry" delegation, announced there that he is against Smith, Reed, Ritchie, or any other co-called "wet" for the democratic presidential nomination but added that he will support the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be and come what may.

"Certainly I shall vote for the nominee," he said here Friday. "Anyhow, I go on the theory that any democrat, however poor, would be better than a republican. I am running for re-election on the democratic ticket and I'shall support that ticket."

Anti-Salooners Ready For Action

DALLAS, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Organizations would be formed in every county in the state to see that candidates for public office "from constable to president" are known supporters of the prohibition laws, if resolutions proposed to the Anti-Saloon league are adopted here today at the league's convention.

Five resolutions were proposed by the resolutions committee, including organization in all counties; amendment of the "search and seizure" law; inclusion of a "dry" plank in the platforms of both the republican and democratic parties; instruction of delegates to vote against "wet" candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency; and that all parties nominate only the known "drys."

Judge W. Erskine Williams of Fort Worth was chairman of the morning session; Judge M. A. Childers of San Antonio presided at the afternoon session; Bishop Harry T. Moore of Dallas was to preside tonight.

ENGINEERS CLAIM FOUNDATION OF DAM FOUND TO BE FAULTY

SANTA PAULA, Cal., March 16.—(AP)—With the known death toll standing at 206, several sets of investigators dug deeper into the available evidence today in an effort to unearth the cause of the St. Francis dam disaster.

Although two coroner's juries found yesterday that the victims came to their death by drowning as the result of the breaking of the dam, they did not attempt to fix the blame. From two official investigating sources, however, came reports that the foundation upon which the great structure was built was faulty.

The report of State Engineer Edward Hyatt, Jr., that "had the dam had a sufficiently strong foundation this great tragedy never would have happened," was echoed in a report by Ventura county engineer, Charles Petit.

And on the heels of these reports, Governor C. C. Young telephoned B. B. Meek, head of the department of public works at Sacramento to select a group of competent engineers to examine the dam.

The action, the governor said, was "not taken in a spirit of histility toward anyone." He added that there were "three parties at interest—those afflicted by the disaster, the people of Los Angeles and the California public at large."

A federal slant was given to another investigation of the disaster when Elwood Mead, director of the United States reclamation service, agreed to head a board of engineers to be selected from the membership of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Forces of iron and steel—steam shovels and tractors—today came to the aid of men in searching the path of the runaway waters for the bodies of victims.

The call for the machines came yesterday from the weary workers who declared they believed all of the bodies on the surface of the flood area had been found.

The last report showed the bodies of 206 of the dead recovered and the number of missing persons as 196, a total of 402 as the possible death toll of the flood.

COMMISSIONER PRECINCT NO. THREE.

To the People of Commissioners Precinct No. 3 of Navarro County:

In entering the race for commisisoner from this precinct, I ask your earnest consideration of my candidacy for the following reasons:

If elected I will do all in my power to keep taxes down and to be economical in the use of public funds. Where improvements are needed I will certainly favor them, but I will give them the same consideration as if they were my own improvements. I feel that public funds should be handled even more carefully than private funds and when I expend a dollar I shall try to get a dollar's value.

I expect to keep up the roads and where they are being worked there is where I will be. I expect to devote my time to the duties of the office and to be commissioner for the entire precinct. I am entering the race of my own volition and I feel that if you will be considerate enough to elect me that I can make you an efficient commissioner and I pledge you that I will make an earnest effort to do so.

I am 51 years old and have lived in this precinct for 41 years. I was raised on the farm and taught school for 15 years and for the last 20 years have been living on my farm, and for several years justice of the peace in Precinct No. 7. I have taken an active interest in the public affairs of my county and for the last six years have been chairman of the Streetman Independent school board.

I ask you to give my candidacy your consideration and will see all of you as soon as I can.

Thanking you, I am,
Yours truly,
J. K. HAWTHORN.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB.

Met Wednesday, March 14 at the pretty new home of Mrs. A. W. Jennings. After the opening preliminaries, Miss Mattie Wilroy, our new leader, appointed Mrs. Dr. Bryan chairman for the afternoon. Election of officers for the ensuing year was in order. Mrs. M. R. Barnes was elected president; Mrs. E. S. Gentsch, vice president; Mrs. E. A. Keller, recording secretary. After the election of officers Miss Wilroy discussed the many phases of our work. One of the things discussed was the prizes offered throughout the county and how we might obtain them. Plans were made for the ladies of our club to prepare luncheon for the noonday meal at the short course to be held at the chamber of commerce, the 26th and 27th inst.

Mrs. Barnes, president-elect, appointed her new committees for the year after which we adjourned to meet again the second Wednesday in April. Those present were as follows:

Mrs. Hattie Powers, Mrs. M. R. Barnes, Mrs. M. A. Anderson, Mrs. C. F. Bryan, Mrs. E. S. Gentsch, Mrs. W. A. Dobbins, Mrs. F. L. Belcher, Mrs. A. W. Jennings, Mrs. Mary Sikes, Mrs. J. W. Shadix, Mrs. E. A. Keller.

Borah Trying Undo Part of Campaign Scandal For His Party's Leaders

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Quick response to his plea to Republicans of the nation to pay off the $160,000 campaign contribution of Harry F. Sinclair, oil operator and lessee of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, was reported today by Senator Borah of Idaho.

The Senator made public a telegram received from Senator Goff, Republican, West Virginia, in response to his first appeal for funds which was issued last night.

"Will gladly be one of 160," Senator Goff wired, "to contribute one thousand dollars or one of thirty-two to give five thousand dollars to make possible the return of this most revolting oil donation which every right-thinking Republican conscious of the greatness and rectitude of his party instantly repudiates and makes haste to turn back to its original donor."

The Ihahoan was confident today that Republicans would answer his plea for wiping out of the Sinclair contribution which was revealed by Will Hays, chairman of the Republica atioal committee in the 1920 campaign, in testimony before the senate oil committee.

"We have got to do it," he declared.

Already the senator's office is feeling the burden of its new duty. Callers began coming in today.

Senator Cutting, Republican, New Mexico, also has assured the Idaho senator of his willingness to co-operate in the movement.

Senator Cutting also expressed willingness to join in the proposal of Senator Goff for $1,000 contributions by 160 persons, and he added "we may have to raise more than the $160,000." He did not amplify this remark.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—(AP)—Pending adoption of a similar course by the republican national committee, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, will appeal to members of his party throughout the country for contributions to lift the "obligation of shame" involved in Harry F. Sinclair's donation to the committee in 1923 of $160,000 in liberty bonds.

These bonds, representing part of the profits of the Continental Trading company and shared in by the oil operator and lessee of Teapot Dome, are now being traced by the senate, some of them by a subcommittee in Chicago, as a result of testimony by Will H. Hays that he parceled out the securities to republican leaders and others and sought donations in like amounts from them so it would not appear that such a large sum come from one man.

Senator Borah's action, following an individual course in trying to get this amount returned to Sinclair, was planned, he said, because the republican committee had not as yet acted on his appeal addressed to William M. Butler, chairman, to give the money back. Butler, who took the chairmanship after the Sinclair bonds were turned over to former Chairman Hays for use in securing the committee deficit from the 1920 campaign, has contended that it was up to those consider whether the money should who handled the transaction to be returned.

Political Significance.

Although the Idaho senator did not criticize any present party managers in his statement outlining his course, his step is looked upon as having some political significance in view of the fact that he is considered as a possible presidential candidate this year.

"After consulting with friends today," his statement last night said, "I have concluded to make an effort to raise this money. I have already received some contributions voluntarily and offers of more.

"It does not seem to me that it is a matter about which we can delay action. To hesitate is almost as bad as to not act at all. Not over a dozen men perhaps knew of this transaction until recently, but it is now known and it is up to the party to repudiate the whole business and do so without delay.

"I shall appeal, therefore, to republicans over the country to come forward and lift this obligation of shame. The money will be deposited in the Riggs National bank, at Washington, D. C., as fast as received."

More Charges Brought Against Texas Cotton Firm Before Committee

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Plans or calling representatives of all cotton exchanges and of the cotton trade generally were heard today by the senate subcommittee investigating marketing operations in connection with the 1927 price slump.

Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, announced that purpose at the close of the direct statement of Arthur R. Marsh, New York cotton broker and sponsor of the charges of market manipulation and violation of anti-trust laws against the Houston, Texas, cotton trading firm of Anderson Clayton and company.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(AP)—Operations in cotton sales on "call" made by Anderson, Clayton & Co., of Houston, Texas, in 1925, had resulted in boosting the price spinners paid when they took up their contracts from $3 to $4 a bale, Arthur R. Marsh, New York cotton broker, today told the Senate committee investigating charges of market manipulation against the firm.

To support this charge, Marsh said the Houston firm had accumulated 1925 December futures contracts in New York during the summer and early fall of that year and at the same time made "on call" sales to spinners, the price to be paid to be based on the December range.

He said the Utica cotton firm of Maynard & Woodward found that Anderson Clayton agents had approached its customers, offering "on call" contracts at $2.50 a bale less than any other dealer could possibly sell it.

To Recoup on Futures.

"Anderson Clayton hoped to reimburse themselves by the profit they would make on their control of December futures in New York?" Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, committee chairman, asked.

"Yes, sir, that is my charge," Marsh said.

The call sales amounted to thousands of bales, the witness said, adding:

"When the corner became apparent, these spinners had to call this cotton. They found that Anderson Clayton were practically the only owners of December contracts.

"The result was that Anderson Clayton were both buyers and sellers of December contracts, selling their own contracts to the mills at from $3 to $4 a bale over the normal price parity."

Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, asked what the effect on other cotton prices had been. Marsh said the transactions had

EXPLOSION TAKES HEAVY TOLL EARLY FRIDAY MORNING

BATON ROUGE, La., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Three men were killed and two injured early today when an explosion occurred in one of the filter buildings of the Standard Oil company Louisiana refinery here.

The dead:

Joe DeWitt, night shift foreman, who was blown from the top of the building through the brick wall or a window.

S. Madison, negro laborer.

Fate Weston, negro laborer, whose body has not been recovered from the building.

The injured:

T. J. Jackson, filter plant man, cut about the throat, not seriously.

R. T. Penny, electrician, who fell from a platform while cutting high tension wires after the explosion and whose condition is believed serious.

The explosion occurred at 3 o'clock this morning in filter building number three, presumably on the second flor. With the state of wreckage and the fire not being extinguished, it is impossible to reach a conclusion as to what caused the explosion, Standard Oil officials said.

ROBBERS SECURED LARGE SUM FROM BANK AT BERTRAM

BERTRAM, March 17.—(AP)—The Farmers State bank of Bertram was looted of $6,500 some time Friday night by burglars who burned a hole in the side of the vault and in the bottom of the safe, and flooded the building with water.

The robbery was discovered Saturday morning by President George White and Cashier Reed Davidson, when they opened the bank.

No clue as to the identity of the robbers had been found.

The robbers used a blow-torch to cut a hole in the side of the vault. Once inside, a large safe was turned upside down and a hole burned in the bottom. From this safe the currency was obtained. The building was flooded apparently to prevent any outbreak of fire from the extreme heat generated by the blow torch.

So far as could be learned, no one saw the robbers about the building Friday night and there was no hint of anything unusual until the bank door was opened.

The robbers gained access to the building through the back door.

THREE CHILDREN DIE IN FLAMES OF HOME IN WYOMING

NEW CASTLE, Wyo., March 16.—(AP)—Three small childrne were burned to death early today, a mother and an aged man are expected to die, and three other children escaped with minor burns when fire destroyed the home of William Sieger here.

The dead:

Eva Sieger, age 2 years.
Arna Sieger, 3.
Marguerite Sieger, 8.

The injured:

Mrs. William Sieger, not expected to live.
Warren Echkenrode, 60, severely burned.
Lola May Sieger, age 2 months.
Roy Sieger, 15 years.
Edith Sieger, 14.

The fire was caused by an explosion from a stove, it was reported.

A LETTER OF PROTEST.

March 8, 1928.—Mr. Halbert in his statement in the Weekly Light of Tuesday, March 6th, stated that farmers work only seven months of the year. Surely Mr. Halbert is misinformed for surely he would not say that if he really knew.

Now a word for the farmer. We commence breaking land, as soon as we get the present crops gathered, which is generally in November; then we harrow the land, then bed it, by this time, it is time to plant corn, gardens, or any truck patches. By the time we get all this planted, we must commence to get our cotton land in shape to plant, and if it rains, we fix fences to keep our stock from bothering our neighbor.

By the time we get our crop all planted we must commence plowing the crops that are already up, so we are busy until the middle of July, when we have laid by our crops. We must now get our supply of winter wood, which takes us until the middle of August. By this time our cotton is opening, and we must commence gathering.

Now how much time have we to jazz around in our tin lizzies, if we can afford one? We go to town only to get things needful. Now we may be bull-headed as some gentleman kindly remarked, but we farm women do not need anything more to do, to keep us from jazzing around. If we try selling a few eggs they are so cheap, we can't feed our hens on what we realize on them. If we try selling a few vegetables we get nothing for them; if we try to sell butter, we must have our stables concreted before our butter is fit to eat, and one dozen frying size chickens will run the price so low, we will have to give the rest of them away, so they are worth less than it takes to raise them.

Now God made all men equal; we are all of one breath, and when God's will is done on earth as it is in Heaven, there will be no difference between country and city folks. Man was told to go out and subdue the earth, not his fellow man; but the majority want the other fellow to do the work, and let him jazz around and tell them how to do it. Now, I haven't anything against Mr. Halbert, but he surely doesn't know anything about work on the farm.

MRS. J. A. GOSSETT,
Powell, Texas, Rt. 1.

LEASING OF STATE LANDS BEFORE HIGH COURTS FOR ACTION

COMPLICATED ACTION WAS HEARD FRIDAY; OTHER SUITS ARE PENDING

AUSTIN, March 17.—(AP)—Land Commissioner J. T. Robison told the supreme court Saturday that 1,000,000 acres of Texas university's land in West Texas is a statutory grant, and not subject to constitutional limitations which the University regents are invoking in an assault upon two laws authorizing existing oil leases worth millions of dollars.

This statutory grant includes the acreage involved in the Rosa Frank and George Thiesen mandamus suits againsct the commissioner in attempts to establish the 1917 university land leasing act as constitutional, and the 1925 leasing act unconstitutional. The university claims both void and is holding out for a 1902 act giving the regents authority to administer leasing and sales.

1927 Act Held Valid.

Commissioner Robison argued to the court that the 1917 act providing prospecting permits at 10 cents an acre is still valid for unsold common school lands but that the 1925 law providing lease sales to the highest bidder takes precedence over all laws relating to university land leasing, even though not expressly repealing the part of the 1917 law referring to the latter.

E. F. Smith of Austin, an aide of Mr. Robison, assailed the position of the university regents as "morally wrong, economically unsound and legally indefensebile." He referred to the stand of Dexter Hamilton, special university counsel, Friday, that the constitutional mandate that university lands "shall be sold," precludes any leasing under the 1925 and 1917 acts.

Oil Man Joins Suit.

C. R. Wharton of Houston of the Big Lake and Texon Oil companies aligned partially with Commissioner Robison, said of the regents that "these gentlemen crying for sale of the university lands forget that only a few years ago the lands would have brought only $2 to $4 an acre."

The university's attack was continued Saturday by W. M. Odell, Fort Worth, second member of the regents' special counsel. He cited numerous cases in efforts to show that the university cannot help outsiders develop its lands by dividing proceeds with them under the royalty system.

AUSTIN, March 17.—(AP)—The offense, attacking laws governing the lease of Texas university oil lands and involving millions, had its day in court Friday and the defense, through Land Commissioner J. T. Robison, Saturday undertook to prove the laws are constitutional despite the contrary position of even the university itself.

Arguments, before the supreme court, of the statutes in question make up only part of litigation pending for submission and assailing every important measure concerning the administration, lease and sale of state and university lands and mineral rights.

The court is scheduled to hear Moday the combined assault of seven realtors and the attorney general's department on the 1919 act relinquishing to buyers of state lands fifteen-sixteenths of those land's mineral rights. It completed Friday, before taking the university's matters hearing of Former State Senator I. E. Clark's contentions that the law purporting to allow county commissioners to lease lands for mineral purposes is unconstitutional. Clark is involved with Fayette county.

Commissioner Robinson's position in Saturday's session was that the university acts of 1917 and 1925, the first providing for issuance of mineral prospectings permits at a flat rate of 10 cents an acre plus one-eighth royalty to the institution and the second allowing lease to highest bidder with the same royalty reservation, must stand.

George W. Thiesen and S. Rosa Frank, through mandamus actions seek permits under the 1917 statute and claim the other invalid. The regents, through intervention brought by the former attorney general's department, would have declared unsound and invoke the law of 1901 which they claim gives them sole control of the institution's lands.

The attorney general, like Robison, seeks to uphold the 1917 and 1925 acts, which, if declared unconstitutional would invalidate leases worth millions, they claim.

Houston City Hall To Cost $1,000,000

HOUSTON, March 17.—(AP)—Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe Saturday named a citizens' committee of nine to select an architect and supervise construction of a new city hall to be built in the civic center at a cost of $1,000,000.

The mayor said he hoped the plans would be completed by early summer and that construction could get under way by January 1, 1929.

Mrs. Paul Moore, and daughter Marilyn, were able to be moved home Saturday.

HICKMAN ARRIVES SAN QUENTIN AND IS GIVEN NUMBER

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., March 17.—(AP)—William Edward Hickman, convicted of two murders, and a kidnapping, arrived at San Quentin prison today from Los Angeles. He became No. 44049. He has been sentenced to hang April 27 for the murder of 12-year old Marian Parker, daughter of a Los Angeles banker. He also is under a life sentence for the murder of C. Ivy Toms, a druggist of Rosehill, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Hickman was shackled to a guard on the trip from Los Angeles. He was one of eighteen prisoners brought from the south under heavy guard in a special car. Among them was Welby Hunt, 17-year old former pal of Hickman, convicted of participating in the Toms holdup and killing.

Hickman and Hunt are now enemies. Hunt claims credit for identifying Hickman as the kidnapper and slayer of Marian Parker and is trying to share in the $27,000 reward offered for his capture and conviction. Hickman retaliated by disclosing that Hunt participated in the Toms murder.

Prison officials said Hickman would receive no special treatment at the penitentiary. He will be put through the usual prison routine. His conviction for the murder of the Parker girl is on appeal as it involves the constitutionality of a new state law under which the youth pealded not guilty by reason of insanity.

Hickman was placed in a cell in the condemned row.

FIVE TRAINMEN KILLED IN CRASH

TITUSVILLE, Fla., Mar. 16.—(AP)—Five train employees were killed today one mile north of here when Florida East Coast passenger train No. 37, south-bound, left the tracks when the outer rail of a curve gave way.

The dead:

J. W. CLARK, Jacksonville, Fla., engineer.

FIREMAN HOWARD, negro.

A white express messenger and two negro helpers, unidentified.

As far as could be determined. no passengers were hurt.

The train was a local, made up of several express cars and two day coaches. The engine and three express cars went into a ditch, overturning. First reports said the day coaches remained on the track.

The two dead expressmen were later identified as Lemmie T. Williams, Jacksonville and Jimmy Wilson, negro, Miami.

HEAVY RAIN STOPS ALL KINDS PLANTING IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Farm work was stopped by the heavy rain Thursday morning and the continued inclement weather of Friday. A norther blew up Thursday night and Friady the thermometer stood at 46 degrees all day. The low point reached Friday night was 34 degrees according to, the government thermometer which was two degrees above freezing. Saturday was fair with a steadily rising temperature.

The cold is not expected to damage crops to a very great extent as the ground was wet and freezing temperature was not reached.

During the earlier part of the week farmers were busy planting corn and when the land dries sufficiently corn planting will be well under way within the next 15 days, weather permitting.

Oats and other grain look fine and present prospects point to at least a normal crop and there is considerble acreage planted in grain. Reports from all sections of the county indicate that the farmers will plant at least as much corn as last year and in some instances more. Other feed crops will be planted and there will be no increase in cotton acreage this year.

U. S. SUBMARINE S-4 WILL GIVE UP EIGHT OF CREW MONDAY NIGHT

COLLISION VICTIM PLACED IN DRYDOCK AT BOSTON MONDAY

EIGHT REMAINING MEMBERS OF CREW IN VESSEL WILL BE TAKEN OUT

BOSTON, March 19.—(AP)—The bodies of the six members of the crew of the submarine S-4 who were imprisoned in the torpedo compartment when the vessel was sunk by the Coast Guard destroyer, Paulding, on December 17, were viewed by a naval board of investigation this afternoon after the submarine had been placed in the dry dock at the naval yard. In the first three-quarters of an hour of their examination, the board found no message or other written record.

The board entered the submarine shortly after 1 o'clock and three-quarters of an hour later one of its members stationed at a telephone inside the vessel sent up word of its progress.

He said that the position of the six bodies indicated that all the men had died in their bunks and that later their bodies had been washed out. The body of Lieut. Graham Newell Fitch was lying under a bench on the starboard side just abaft of the torpedo tubes. It was identified by his naval academy ring and naval academy sweater.

Three bodies were at the foot of a ladder and two in the after part of the torpedo room under bunks. All the bodies were covered with mud.

BOSTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—The submarine S-4, raised on Saturday from the ocean bottom off Cape Cod where she had lain since being sunk by the coast guard destroyer Paulding on December 17 and towed here, was placed in the drydock at the navy yard at high water shortly after 9 a. m. today.

BOSTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Cradled among six pontoons, the submarine S-4, tomb of 40 officers and men of whose bodies all but eight have been removed, awaited only a favorable tide today for the last act in the tragedy which was enacted off Provincetown three months ago.

The raised submarine was brought here yesterday after a 60-mile tow across windswept Massachusetts Bay and anchored off a drydock at the navy yard just ahead of a northeast storm. Officers said that had the storm broken while the shattered craft was in the open it would have gone to the bottom again.

It was decided to ease the submarine into the drydock at high tide today. Lieutenant Commander George B. Dowling and naval surgeons were designed to board the craft once the water was drawn off.

Six bodies were known to be in the forward torpedo compartment where the men under Lieut. Graham Newell Fitch lived for many hours after the crash.

Two others were thought to be in the engine room aft where most of the other bodies were found and removed by divers of the naval salvage fleet. The boarding surgeons were ordered to wear masks and make a careful search for messages and letters search for messages been left by the victims in the torpedo room. None of the bodies will be removed until nightfall when they will be taken to the Chelsea naval hospital for identification. This precaution will be taken to prevent photographs.

After the work of the surgeons, a naval board of inspection was ordered to examine the craft for further light on the damage wrought by her collision with the coast guard destroyer Pauling, while the S-4 was presumably coming to the surface after trial run.

company Liberty bond transactions.

He also called upon Secretary Hoover, Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican floor leader; former Governor Lowden, and other Republican candidates for the presidency, who he said "should have spoken out long since," to "make their presence felt and known in this combined movement."

Combining his plea for a "thorough job" of repudiation with a demand that congress find more effective means of preventing "lavish use of money in elections" Senator Capper asserted the "smudge of oil, being smeared blackly across the pages of history, is repulsive to the citizens of the entire country. The trail is slimy, odorous, reeking with corruption."

Sinclair Expected Immunity.

He said the implication was plain that Sinclair, in donating to the Republican party the $160,000 in Liberty bonds to wipe out a campaign deficit, believed "this would buy him immunity in his plot to loot the Wyoming naval oil reserves."

Hull said his demand for the resignation of high Republican officials applied to those who "contributed, either by affirmative act, a conspiracy of silence, or criminal inaction," and that "every standard of political and official honor" required the separation of "those political individuals from every high position they still occupy in the Coolidge administration or the national committee."

"President Coolidge, National Chairman Butler, and other ranking Republican leaders thus far," he asserted, "have remained inactive and inarticulate, as have most other Republicans in high key positions. Senators Borah and Norris and certain other progressive Republicans, to their lasting credit, have spoken out in righteous condemnation and demanded quick restitution of these corrupt bonds."

The former Democratic chairman said that instead of the bonds being returned to Sinclair, they should go back "either to those oil companies which were robbed by the Continental Trading company or to the federal treasury in part payment of delinquent taxes of the Continental."

Borah Is Criticized.

Senator Borah, who deposited in a Washington bank Saturday $1,490 that already has been subscribed to his $160,000 restitution fund, was criticized by Senator Nye last night in Baltimore, the oil committee chairman declaring the move "the most foolish step Senator Borah ever took."

"His motives are the best," Nye added, "but he is unfair to the people, for they are made to think that Harry Sinclair is the only scoundrel that has ever played with the Republican party, and, besides, it is the poor devil who can't afford it who will put in his $1, $5 and $10 contributions."

The Teapot Dome committee has summoned to appear before it Wednesday Wilbur W. Marsh of Waterloo, Iowa, who, it has been testified, suggested to the Republicans in 1923 that neither they nor the Democrats which he represented make a report on contributions for that year since none was required under the law. Marsh has denied this.

D. L. Moody Orr of Kerens was here Monday morning.

SUPPOSED MURDER VICTIM RETURNS TO DUNDEE HOME

BODY OF UNKNOWN HAD BEEN IDENTIFIED BY BROTHER

DUNDEE, Mar. 19.—(AP)—The Odyssey of John C. Dudley, whose supposed body was buried here on Thanksgiving day, has ended with his return home, but the identity of the corpse found near Bridgeport early in November and exhumed at the request of Dudley's brother remains a mystery.

The body which Dick Dudley identified as that of John at Decatur November 22, now reposes in the Dundee cemetery. Death had been ascribed to a slashed throat and th enow unmarked grave is believed to bear mute testimony to an obscure murder.

Dick Dudley stated at the time of the identification of the body that he had dreamed his brother was killed. Before viewing the body he described how his brother had lost his right forefinger by a horse bite. The exhumed body lacked a forefinger.

Shortly after reburial of the body which had been brought here as that of John Dudley, word was received that John Dudley still lived.

Dudley left here about October 2, after selling interest in a motion picture theater. He says he traveled into South Texas and thence into Louisiana where he became ill. After his illness he returned here.

Dudley said he knew nothing of the burial mystery until he returned home.

SMITH'S FRIENDS PLAN ATTACK UPON TWO-THIRDS RULE

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—(AP)—The New York Times today says friends of Goernor Smith have in mind in the event that he loses Iowa and California primaries, a plan for modification of the rule requiring a two-thirds vote for nomination of a presidential candidate at the democratic convention.

The proposal is to have the convention adopt a resolution providing that the two-thirds rule shall remain in force for fifteen ballots and that if no nomination is made before that the nomination then shall be by a majority vote. They maintain that the adoption of such a resolution would prevent a deadlock such as took place in the 1924 convention.

The Times says the proposal has not as yet received the approval of Governor Smith but has been discussed by members of the Democratic National Committee.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR PROGRAM OF ROTARY SESSION

Plans for the program of the Corsicana Rotary club Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Navarro hotel were outlined at a meeting of the program committee and officials of the club Monday. W. H. Potts of Dallas will present a phrenology number. All Rotary-Anns will be present and will have charge of a portion of the program. A meeting of a committee of Rotary-Anns was held Monday afternoon.

Plans for the approaching Forty-eighth district conference to be held in Corsicana, April 16-17, will be outlined and developed at this meeting. All chairman of the various committees will make reports on their work.

The program committee is in charge of Wayne R. Howell, chairman; R. J. Jackson and Beauford H. Jester.

Bridge Game Kills Senators Sorrows

TAMPA, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—A stacked bridge deck jokingly substituted for a shuffled pack here Saturday night still was the talk about the Washington Senator's training camp today, despite that eight rookies were cut loose from the team over the week end and that six games were on schedule this week for as many days.

Several near heart failures resulted when the four players, Hopkins, West, Reeves and Hadley, found their cards fixed so that each got all the cards of the same suit. Several seven bids resulted but it was not until the auction had started the second time around that the players realized something was up, compared hands amid laughter, and called for a new deal.

GOVERNOR ORDERS RANGERS TO SEARCH FOR JAIL BREAKER

MIDLAND, March 19.—(AP)—C. C. Baze, Teague Lawler and F. A. Duncan escaped from the jail here yesterday when they overpowered a deputy sheriff when he brought them sandwiches for the evening meal.

The deputy was bound and forced to walk two miles north of Midland where he was bound and left.

Baze was held here on a complaint charging murder in connection with the shooting to death of two Mexicans in an alleged bank robbery attempt at Stanton on December 23, awaiting action of the Martin county grand jury which convenes on March 26.

Lawler was under a 99-year sentence for robbery by firearms of a filling station, while Duncan was under a 2-year sentence for forgery.

Lee Smith, who with Baze was charged with murder in the death of the two Mexicans, is being held in the jail at Big Spring.

The deputy the men overpowered was D. E. Covington.

All sheriffs in West Texas today had been notified of the escape of the three men and were joining in the search. Officers were seeking bloodhounds to use in their search, and were maintaining a guard at the home of Baze in Stanton.

AUSTIN, March 19.—(AP)—Texas Rangers Monday were ordered by Governor Moody to search for C. C. Baze, who Sunday night escaped jail at Midland, where he was held on murder charges in connection with the allegedly "framed" killing of two Mexicans at Stanton as alleged bank robbers.

Trial of Baze and Lell Smith, who were charged jointly by complaint, was to have come up soon.

District Attorney Roy Biggs notified the governor of the escape. Mr. Moody probably will offer a reward.

EIGHT DEFENDANTS IN TEXARKANA AUTO CASES ARE FREED

TEXARKANA, March 19.—(AP)—Defendants in four cases, including indictments for conspiracy to violate the National Motor Vehicle Act, were freed on the Government's motion to "nolle Prosse" the charges in an adjourned session of the Western District Federal Court of Arkansas which opened here today.

Eight of the 10 defendants in the alleged conspiracy were freed on the motion, which did not pertain to Roy Walker and John Carney, who are now serving sentences on the charges.

Those freed were: Sheriff Roy Hooper of Sevier county; Willis Rhodes, Charlie Tobin, Tom Penny, Ike Terry, John Sharpe, Press Tanners and a man named Albrooks.

S. S. Langley, U. S. District attorney, in asking for dismissal of the indictments, said the government had insufficent evidence on which to bring the defendants to trial.

Charges against Charles McGregor, indicted for alleged violation of the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act, and Oscar Mose Cox, a merchant of Prescott, charged with using the mails to defraud, also were dismissed.

Paul Vitek, indicted in 1924 on 11 counts charging use of the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stock in the Vitek Oil and Refining Co., of Eldorado, Ark., was freed on motion by the government.

MINERS OFFICIAL SAYS CANADA HAS JOINED IN ATTACK

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Charges that "the Canadian government is a party to the attack upon the United Mine Workers in the United States" were made before the Senate Coal Committee today by Oliver K. Eaton, union attorney.

W. R. Woodford, Cleveland, Ohio, president of the Rail and River Coal company, was under examination at the time. He testified that the company was incorporated under West Virginia law but that the stock is owned exclusively by the Canadian National railways, which is controlled by the Canadian government.

Eaton brought out that Woodford contracted with the Canadian National to furnish coal at a "cost plus 25 cents per ton basis" and was told that this meant a loss of $110,000 in a coal year. This led to an effort to reduce miners' wages, Eaton said. He charged further that the Canadian government was "participating in a natural resource of the United States" and was seeking to reduce the earnings and living standards of the American miner.

W. J. Carroll of Kerens was a business visitor here Monday.

Steve Sanders of Hereford, Charles Sanders of Big Lake, Will J. Sanders of San Angelo and I. A. Sanders of Frost were business visitors in Corsicana Monday.

CLAIMED HOUSTON FIRM DEALT HEAVY IN FUTURES IN NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—Charges of cotton market manipulation from 1926 through to the present time by the firm of Anderson Clayton and company of Houston, Texas, were widened before the senate committee of inquiry today by the declaration of Arthur R. Marsh, New York cotton broker, that the firm had dealt in at least 1,500,000 bales in future contract on the New York market alone from the fall of 1926 to March of this year.

The effect of these dealings, Marsh said, had been to "waterlog" the market and enable the Houston firm to balance its own transactions and buy back its own sales of future contracts at its own price.

William L. Clayton, head of the Houston firm, had testified that his company had assembled in New York some 200,000 bales of actual cotton to "protect" its future "hedges" in that market, the witness said.

"Protecting hedges really means compelling those who bought your hedge contracts to sell them back to you at a price you fix," Marsh said.

David H. Miller, attorney for Clayton, interrupted to challange these statements.

"All this is disputed," Miller said.

Marsh, explaining, went on to say that Anderson Clayton had hit upon the "device" of being "long" through one group of brokers and "short" through others, which he said was the "most effective method of market control ever put in operation."

When "notice day" for settlement of future positions comes along, Marsh continued, the Houston firm shot its heavy holdings into the market, "water logging" it and allowing the company to buy back its own future sales at the price it fixed itself.

Taking up the argument made to the committee by Clayton that New York is not a "logical" spot cotton market, Marsh said the Houston dealer had submitted figures "specifically designed to misrepresent" the facts and "mislead this committee as to the cost of delivering cotton in New York as compared to Southern markets."

"Of course that is denied," said Miller.

Marsh said Clayton had included a 50 cent "spot cotton commission" element of delivery cost for the New York market, yet his own firm had tendered 1,500,000 bales on that market "without paying any such commission on a single bale of it."

"The inclusion of this is an obvious attempt to mislead this committee," he insisted, adding that the "spot commission" was not paid by any New York cotton house or by any firm having a house in New York.

M'MAN COMPANY WINNER IN FEDERAL COURT OF APPEALS

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—(AP)—The suit of P. J. Hurley and others, receivers of the Gilliand Oil company, to have set aside the conveyance of a tract of land in Texas valued at $1,000,000, was decided in favor of the McMan Oil and Gas company, defendants, by the United States Court of Appeals here, today.

The receivers won in a decision handed down by the Northern District Court of Texas but the Court of Appeals today ordered it reversed.

The Gilliand Oil company conveyed to the McMan company on May 11, 1921, the tract of land known as the "Hardin lease" and on November 20, 1920, suit was brought by Hurley and others, receivers of the Gilliand company, to have the conveyance set aside.

FIFTY-NINE MILES OF NEW RAILROAD ARE AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Construction in Oklahoma of 59 miles of new railroad from Hooker to Keyes, a point on the New Mexico line, was authorized today by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The Heaver, Meads and Englewood corporation, which now operates a short line of Oklahoma railroad will undertake the work and provide $1,196,762 to meet the costs.

The company originally sought authorization to build through from Hooker to Des Moines in New Mexico, a distance of 157 miles. However, on completing its surveys, it determined that the construction from Hooker to Keyes was all that it could undertake immediately and the commission consequently limited the authority to this stretch, requiring the corporation to complete the extension by 1930. Later it may come forward with proposals for the balance of its project.

The line is expected to serve a fertile farming and grazing area which has prospects of developing gas or oil resources.

TWO AMPHIBIAN PLANES HEADED FOR MINATITLAN

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 19.—(AP)—Lieuts. George C. McDonald and Robert B. Williams, flying amphibian planes from Panama, hopped off this morning en route to Minatitlan, Mexico, where they will join the party of F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation, and Major General James E. Fechet, chief of the American air force.

Mr. Davidson and Gen. Fechet, due to a mishap to one of the planes in which they are making a flight from Washington to Panama, have postponed further flight until the new amphibians arrive at Minatitlan.

The American pilots covered the distance from Panama to Managua in six hours and 40 minutes. One stop was made at David near the Panama-Costa Rican border. The distance to Minatitlan is about 1,500 miles and stops will be made in Salvador and Salima Cruz.

Mrs. H. B. Chrtis of Kerens underwent a major operation at the Navarro County Hospital Monday afternoon.

BELIEVES VATICAN NOT INTERESTED IN AMERICAN ELECTION

ROME, March 19.—(AP)—Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago is convinced that the Vatican is not interested in the American presidential campaign, because it is "too far away and the issues are too involved."

As to the candidacy of Governor Smith of New York, the cardinal said:

"During my whole week's stay in Rome the subject was not broached once to or by me in either of my two audiences with the pope or any of my other talks with highly placed prelates. They really are not interested.

"They know that if a Catholic were elected president, it would not change things one particle.

"The Catholic church in America contends with no oppressive legislation, has no political axe to grind and lives and thrives under the existing form of government. Therefore there is no reason whatever for it to take a partisan stand."

The cardinal thinks the situation ico was not brought up by the pope or others with whom he had audiences, Cardinal Mundelein said.

The cardina lthinks the situation will be cleared up before long. He expressed great faith in Ambassador Morrow, saying he thought Mr. Morrow would prove a better influence in Mexico "than anything else there."

PICKETS STAGING UNFRIENDLY ACTS ARRESTED MONDAY

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(AP)—Four pickets who appeared at the White House today to stage an unfriendly demonstration against a Hungarian delegation were arrested by police.

The four pickets were carrying placards which accused members of the delegation and the government they represented with "mass murders" and with favoring the return of the Hapsburg dynasty. The delegation came to the United States to attend the unveiling of a monument to Louis Kossuth.

The delegation which President Coolidge was to receive arrived at the White House in motor cars led by the Hungarian minister to Washington. It consisted of about 300 members but only about 20 of these were received by Mr. Coolidge.
